

CAR AND PLANE — The damaged windshield of this Cadillac is clearly visible, as is the plane in the background. The two collided on south Highway 65 after the plane made an emergency landing following trouble in switching fuel tanks. The car was driven by C. K. Bradford, Springfield, while Harry S. Noordam Jr., Omaha, Neb., piloted the plane. Seven persons escaped injury in the accident, but the driver of the car received minor lacerations. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

PARKED IT PERFECTLY — This Piper Cherokee aircraft, on a charter flight to Ft. Leonard Wood with three passengers, developed fuel trouble and glided for more than a mile before touching down on South Highway 65 in a perfect landing. But before coming to a stop, the plane's left wing collided with a car.

Highway 50 Land Sought In Petition

The State Highway Commission of Missouri last Friday filed a massive condemnation petition in Circuit Court here seeking the use of lands, or sections of lands, parallel to West Highway 50 from the west city limits to the Missouri Pacific Railroad and then east from the Missouri Pacific Railroad to Route 65 in Sedalia.

The total length of the first area is measured in the petition as 0.824 mile, while the second, running east, is 0.516 mile in length.

The petition was filed after the Highway Commission and the several defendants named failed to agree on proper compensation for lands or property rights involved, the petition said.

The Highway Commission earlier this year announced plans to resurface and widen specific sections of Highway 50, running west from the intersection of Broadway and Limit past the west city limits.

The work on the existing road would include, according to the petition, grading, construction of culverts, storm sewers, curb and guttering, resurfacing the present 20-foot concrete pavement with high type pavement and construction of "16 foot high type pavement adjacent to each side" of the road to form "two 24 foot driving lanes separated by a four-foot flush median." The specifications apply to both areas named in the petition.

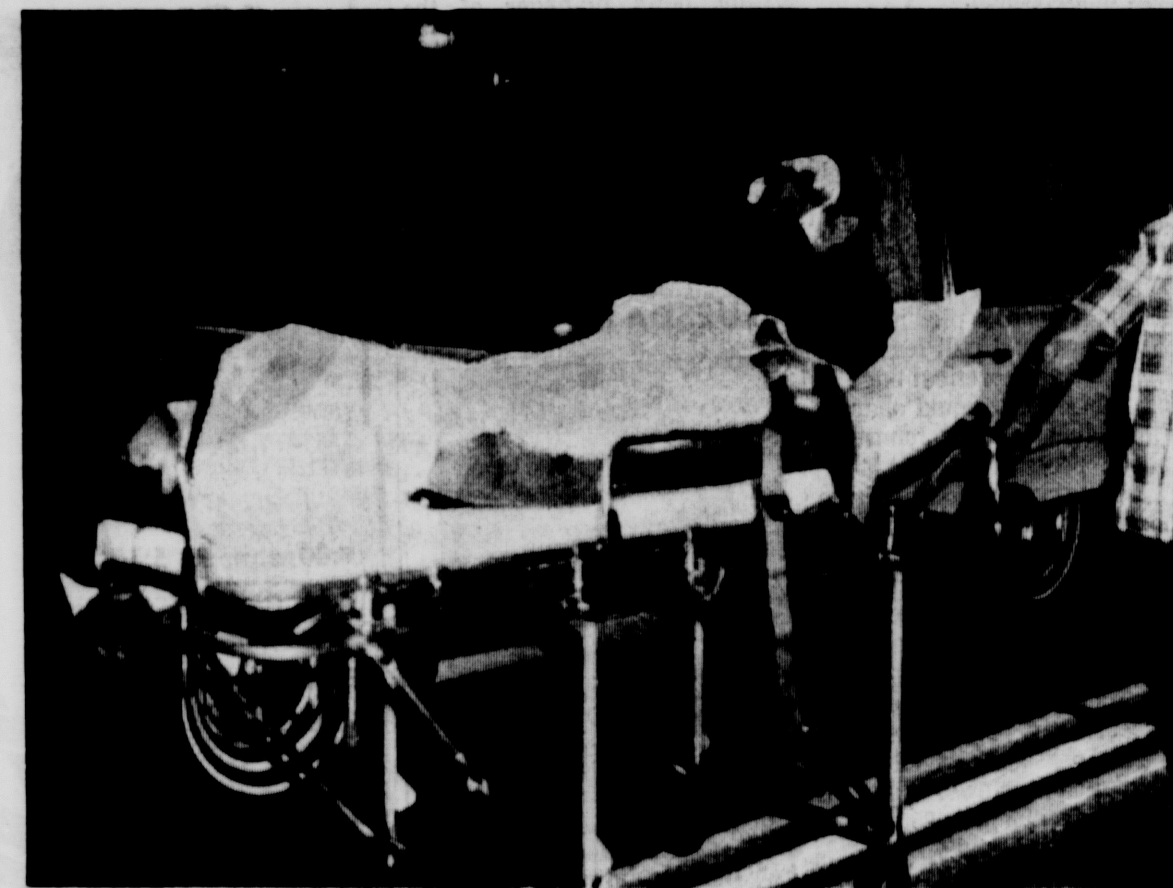

The road would, according to the petition, provide limited access. In all, 14 individual tracts of land are spelled out in the condemnation petition. Almost every business firm west of the intersection of Broadway and Limit to the Thompson Hills Shopping Center is named as a defendant in the petition.

Three Men Injured In Airplane Crash

ROLLA, Mo. (AP) — Three persons were injured Sunday in a light plane that crashed and burned near Rolla.

They were James Theodore Light, 24, the pilot; Charles P. Dean, 46, and William P. Dean, 24, all of Rolla.

The highway patrol said the plane's engine failed shortly after takeoff from Morgan airfield. The craft came down in a field, hit a tree and caught fire.

THE ONLY CASUALTY — C. K. Bradford, Springfield, holds his forehead, lacerated by flying glass when the wing of the airplane collided with the front windshield of his car.

In all, seven persons escaped injury in the freak mishap, and Bradford was released from Bothwell Hospital after treatment for his injuries.

Luck, Skill Play Big Role In Highway Landing Here

A Piper Cherokee 180 airplane and a 1959 Cadillac two-door hardtop sedan were in collision on U. S. Highway 65 about four miles south of Sedalia about 7:15 p.m. Sunday. Seven persons escaped injury, but the driver of the automobile received a laceration on his forehead and one on the left wrist.

C. K. Bradford, 38, Springfield, driver of the car, was taken to Bothwell Hospital by the Ewing ambulance accompanied by Mrs. Bradford, 37, their daughter Kristi, 16, and their granddaughter, Tracy Jean Bradford, eight months. At the hospital Dr. A. R. Maddox rendered medical treatment, taking six stitches in the forehead wound and four in the laceration of the left arm. Bradford was not admitted to the hospital.

The pilot of the plane, Harry Samuel Noordam, Jr., 25, Omaha, Neb., drew nothing but praise from his three soldier passengers whom he was flying by charter to Ft. Leonard Wood, after they had spent the weekend in Omaha.

The three were Pvt. E. 2 Richard C. Carmichael, 19, who said, "The pilot was cool and calm during the whole thing. When trouble developed he never got excited or anything, but did a marvelous job in landing the plane." Pvt. E-2 Gary John Bojanski, 19, Omaha, and Pvt. E-2 Edwin Thomas McKean, 20, Juneau, both were in agreement.

Carmichael explained Noordam had switched from one gas tank to the other, and trouble developed. He said, the pilot calmly tried to get the fuel to running, and when the motor began dying, started to descend. "He spotted the highway right away, after he had made an emergency call to an airbase. We came down from about 7,000 feet, headed for a space on the highway which appeared not to have any traffic, and made a perfect landing," he explained.

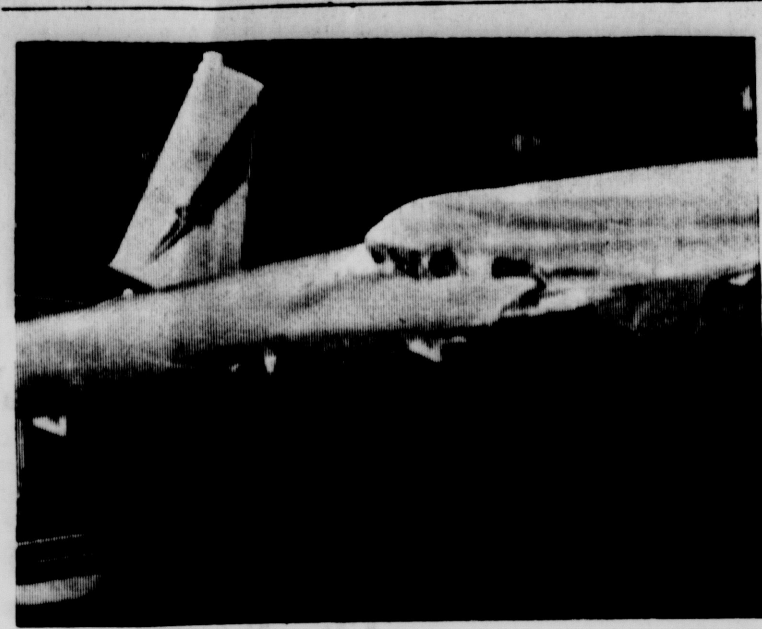

"We had passed over White-man AFB a few minutes before the trouble developed. The pilot radioed to the tower and told them he was having difficulties and would try and make it to an airport. The airfield was too far back to reach and we were southeast of the airport when we began to descend.

"The pilot turned on his landing light over the highway and as we came down we struck a wire or something giving us a slight jerk, but the pilot had a perfect control and he made a perfect landing on the highway. We didn't see any automobiles in the area at the time, but as we rolled down the pavement, I saw this light glare coming over the hill. The pilot tried to keep the plane as far to the right as possible and only the wing was hit. He (Noordam) did a fabulous job," Carmichael added.

Noordam informed State Trooper Richard Joos that he had switched gas tanks and developed fuel trouble. He said he had radioed the Whiteman AFB tower, but then realized he could not make it to that base and started looking for a place to land and spotted the highway.

Noordam also said that he had followed the highway more than a mile in a glide waiting for a chance for the traffic lines to break and then made his approach for the landing on the "concrete strip." As he

DAMAGED WING — About a six-foot section of the left wing on the Piper Cherokee aircraft forced down on Highway 65 Sunday night was damaged when it collided with a car coming from the opposite direction. The plane was pulled off the highway later and traffic, which had backed up for almost two miles in both north and south directions, was allowed to pass.

Where He Once Taught

Johnson Points With Pride To Educational Programs

COTULLA, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson re-visited today the small Mexican-American school here where he taught 38 years ago. It gave him a chance, the day before election, to point with pride to administration education programs.

In prepared remarks laced with reminiscences, Johnson listed "the skill and wisdom of our people" as the country's greatest natural resource.

"That is why last year your national government pledged billions of new dollars to help improve your school and schools all over America," he said.

The President has been busy these past few days pointing with pride to everything from the state of the economy — which seems to please him — to a "stabilized" military situation in Viet Nam.

Later in the day, he will stop off at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio for routine tests in advance of the surgery he hopes will be performed on his throat and abdomen later this week.

When Johnson taught in Cotulla, he was a student himself — earning money to complete his college education.

"In those days," he said,

"neither America nor her schools shared any abundance. We had only five teachers. We had no lunch facilities. No school buses. Very little money for educating the young people of this community."

He said he worked as teacher, principal, playground supervisor, baseball and debate coach, song leader and, "in my spare time assistant janitor."

The school — the Welhausen School — still looks much the same as in 1928, he recalled, "but things are happening: new reading programs; child nutrition and health programs; after-school education centers — all made possible by new federal funds."

That story, he said, "is being repeated in 20,000 school districts in America."

Johnson took the opportunity to urge young people to stay in school and "work to the limit of your ability and ambition."

School dropouts, he declared, are playing Russian roulette with their chances of success.

Sunday, explaining why he hoped his operations could be performed sooner than originally expected, the President said:

"As long as you have a kind of curtain hanging over you, not knowing what is in your throat, what is going to be the result of it, the best way to do it is to just hit the cold water."

Aides said the National Education Association suggested some time ago that Johnson mark National Education Week, which started today, with a speech at the 200-pupil Welhausen School in Cotulla, where he taught Mexican-American students in the late 1920s.

Rescue Force Helps Clear Flood Areas

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Helped by clearing weather and driven by fear of epidemic, a massive Italian-American rescue force worked today to pull a third of Italy from the chaos and misery of the nation's worst flood disaster.

More than 150 bodies were reported recovered and the estimated death toll went to 300. It was feared that the final count would be far greater.

Three days after the first floods and landslides struck in central and northeast Italy, rescue teams still had not reached all of the hundreds of stricken and isolated communities.

American military bases in the country sent men and machines to join Italian soldiers, police and civilian volunteers in a rescue force of 250,000.

Throughout the stricken area, from south of Florence to north of Venice, water contamination and hundreds of thousands of drowned livestock increased the danger of epidemics.

In mountain towns and villages in neighboring east Austria, an estimated 23 persons were dead after four days of blizzards and torrential rains.

Upstream river levels fell in Italy as billions of gallons of water from heavy rains and rampaging floods rushed seaward. That steadily raised the levels downstream.

Workers toiled through the night to shore up dikes and earth levees at the mouths of the Piave River north of Venice and the Po, Adige and Brenta Rivers south of Venice.

Florence and Venice, mud-stained and thick with debris from waters that had swirled 10 feet deep for hours, tried to achieve a semblance of normal life through relief and cleanup operations.

South Vietnamese Beat Off Unusual Daylight Attacks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A large Viet Cong force eluded pursuing U.S. infantrymen today, slipping away through the dense jungle of Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border after inflicting heavy casualties on some U.S. units over the weekend in one of the fiercest fights of the war.

About 200 South Vietnamese militia, aided by accurate artillery support, beat off an unusual daylight attack by 400 to 500 Communists on a government post 12 miles southeast of Quang Ngai, on the central coast. A South Vietnamese spokesman said the enemy left 30 bodies on the battlefield, while only two militiamen were wounded.

Three new operations were announced, two by American forces and one by several South Vietnamese battalions.

A U.S. military spokesman reported "absolutely no contact" in Tay Ninh Province some 50 miles northwest of Saigon where about 10,000 American infantrymen were seeking to box in a Viet Cong regiment of 2,000 men. Reports from the scene said there had been only isolated sniper fire during the day.

The spokesman said 319 enemy bodies have been counted in the area where hard fighting lasted for four days through Sunday night.

Military analysts in Saigon said the stiff enemy resistance apparently developed because the Communists felt the U.S. probes were getting too close to the guerrillas' "central office for South Viet Nam," thought to be somewhere near the Cambodian border.

The American sweep of the enemy stronghold began Oct. 15, but pitched fighting did not develop until Thursday. Total U.S. casualties have been described as light but some units were hit.

In Voting Tuesday

Light Turnout Predicted Despite Pleasant Weather

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It's going to be warm and humid, maybe even damp, for Missouri's general election Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau forecast temperatures would rise into the 70s. It will be partly cloudy with a 20 to 30 per cent chance of precipitation.

Despite favorable voting weather only a light turnout is expected in an election that has stirred little interest except where hot local races or bond issue contests have enlivened the campaign.

Only one statewide race is at stake — State Auditor Haskell Holman, the incumbent Democrat, is given the edge over Republican State Rep. William T. Zimmerman of Warrenton.

Also on the ballot will be a constitutional amendment intended to give St. Louis and St. Louis County voters a chance to settle their tangled governmental affairs and three Supreme Court judges, running only against their records under the nonpartisan court plan.

All of Missouri's 10 congressmen—eight Democrats and two Republicans — are favored to win re-election, although Republican State Chairman Dor-man L. Steelman is hopeful of making some gains.

The Democratic state chairman, Delton L. Houtchens, is equally optimistic but it would be a terrific upset if the Democrats could dislodge Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Webster Groves in the 2nd District of St. Louis County and Rep. Durward G. Hall of Springfield in the heavily Republican 7th of southwest Missouri.

Both parties have been hampered by a lack of funds. With no U. S. senatorial race on which to focus dissatisfaction with the war, inflation, the poverty program and other issues, Democrats are fearful that many frustrated voters will simply stay home.

This would be a big break for the Republicans in this normally Democratic state.

Eighteen state senate and all 163 state representative seats are at stake in a reapportioned legislature which will increase urban strength materially.

Three of the state senate contests look close.

In the 20th District of south central Missouri, stretching from Franklin County on the northeast to Texas County on the southwest, incumbent Sen. Owens, R-Gerald, is being challenged by Rep. Mel Carnahan, D-Rolla, majority floor leader in the House.

Owens is counting on a big vote in Franklin and Gasconade counties to offset the Democratic counties to the south. He could be helped too, by the scars remaining from a bitter

Red China Diplomats Walk Out

Russian Defense Minister Charges Aid Obstruction

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist Chinese diplomats walked out of the Bolshevik Revolution celebration in Red Square today after the Soviet defense minister charged Peking with obstructing Communist aid efforts to North Viet Nam.

It was the second Chinese walkout in less than 24 hours.

The Soviet defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, also attacked the United States in his speech but U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler was not present. American military attaches in the square to see the military parade stayed in their places.

The Red Square celebration produced little new in the lines of oratory or military equipment.

Malinovsky repeated the Soviet accusation that Communist China is obstructing Soviet bloc aid to North Viet Nam and made a relatively restrained attack on U.S. policies. He also renewed a pledge that Soviet aid would bring a Communist victory in Viet Nam.

Previous anniversary celebrations often had been occasions for tough speeches and displays of advances in the Soviet military arsenal.

The defense minister's denunciation of Communist Chinese "interference" with aid sent overland to Hanoi followed similar statements by a top Soviet Communist party leader Sunday that produced a walkout by the senior Communist Chinese diplomat in Moscow.

Black Paint Helps Orbiter Pass A Test

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Nine hours after an Atlas-Agena blasted it skyward from Cape Kennedy, Lunar Orbiter 2 — thanks to a bit of black paint — passed a test its predecessor flunked.

And scientists controlling it from Jet Propulsion Laboratory here hope it will be able to carry out a schedule far more ambitious than that of Orbiter 1 — taking, developing and sending back to earth more than 200 pictures of 13 possible astronaut landing sites on the moon.

As Lunar Orbiter 2 hurtled at 5,200 miles an hour toward the moon a quarter-million miles away shortly after 3 a.m. today, it responded to scientists' orders, rotated and locked on the star Canopus as a navigation guide, JPL spokesmen said.

The 850-pound vehicle was hurled into the sky at 6:21 p.m., EST Sunday from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Sighting devices on Lunar Orbiter 1 never found Canopus, apparently balked by glare from the craft's antenna framework. Lunar Orbiter 2 has a painted framework.

Scientists said they were in no hurry to order a midcourse maneuver to correct its trajectory, and set back the time for the maneuver until later today.

Offices Will Close

Both city and county administrative offices will be closed Tuesday for the general election, it was reported today. Not included are the offices of the county clerk, nor the license bureau.

Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old girl who wants to act like a decent person. I will tell you what happened and I hope you will tell me if I am wrong or right.

My boy friend Peter (fake name) is 28. He works part-time in a drug store to earn spending money. Peter is far from rich, you understand, but he isn't poor either. Saturday night we had a date to go to a drive-in movie. I got dressed up nice because I thought maybe he'd take me to a place to dance later. After we got in the car he said, "Look, I'm light on foot this week. Would you mind lying on the floor of the car and let me put a blanket over you so we can save the price of your ticket?"

I was insulted that he would suggest such a thing and I said so. He looked very disappointed and called me a poor sport and said I had let him down when he needed me.

Now I feel guilty, although part of me says the HE is the one who ought to feel guilty. What do you think? — INSULTED INEZ

Dear Inez: No girl should be asked to be a party to such a cheap trick. And Peter has his nerve suggesting that YOU let him down.

When a girl accepts a date to a drive-in she has every reason to expect to go through the gate, upright in the seat. Floor indeed!

Dear Ann Landers: By this time everyone knows that cigarettes endanger the health. My problem is that someone I love very much is a heavy smoker even though he has a respiratory problem and the doctor told him two years ago to give up cigarettes. I have begged him to stop — for me, if not for himself. I have sent him booklets, magazine articles and newspaper clippings. I have accomplished nothing, but he has become a first-class liar.

Last night he left me twice during the movie to "get a breath of fresh air." I know he went out to smoke.

He swears he has limited himself to eight cigarettes a day but I'm sure he is still burning up at least a pack.

How can I get through to him that he is shortening his life? I'm so worried that I've had to go on tranquilizers. Can you help? — A WRECK

Dear Wreck: It's a lost cause, Girl. Accept the realities of the situation before you ruin YOUR health.

Nicotine addicts will give up the habit only if they like themselves well enough to be good to themselves. In this sense the problem is the same as alcoholism.

Dear Ann Landers: It sure is easy for you to sit out there in Chicago and deal advice off your arm like a sleight-of-hand artist in a carnival show.

You told a man who said he was fond of wearing sport shirts that it wouldn't kill him to put on a white shirt and tie for a special party if his wife asked him to.

How do YOU know whether or not it would kill him? I happen to be a man and it kills me. Some men just hate to put on a white shirt and a tie. So why don't you stick to problems you've had some experience with? — HAD ENOUGH OF YOU

Dear Had: If I had experienced even a small percentage of the problems I deal with every day I would be in no shape to write this column. You don't have to be a cow to know what milk is, Buster.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Eleven-Year-Old Falls To Death As Sky-Diver

MANASSAS, Va. (AP) — Dana Rutledge, 11, spent half his young life around skydivers. He knew what it was all about.

So skilled and trustworthy he was that for the last 300 of 1,000 jumps his father has made, he was allowed to pack the chute.

The father, Carl A. Rutledge, is a classifier at the U.S. Patent Office in nearby Washington and lives in Vienna, Va. He has been jumping for five years and is president of "The Targeteers," a skydiving club.

None of the 160 or so members of the club loves skydiving more than Dana did. He was, said Rutledge, "very athletic and smart as a whip and quick in his response to things."

Yet, when Dana begged to be allowed to jump, Rutledge thought a long time. Finally, because of Dana's "over-all general knowledge" of skydiving, Rutledge gave in.

Dana made his first jump last summer.

Sunday, he made his ninth and last. His chute failed to open properly and he fell to his death in a field on the family's farm near here.

On the ground, Rutledge saw it happen. He was in charge of the jump.

The chances of a fatality in skydiving "are one in a million — just astronomical," Rutledge said. But it can happen and Rutledge knew it. He plans to keep on jumping.

Exactly what happened to Dana's chute, he does not know.

The boy — a 5th grader in school — jumped from a light plane at 3,200 feet. He was to pull the ripcord as soon as he cleared the plane. The main chute did not open.

The emergency chute opened but it did not blossom. It might have opened too late.

Dana packed the chute, his father said, but it was the chute that was at fault.

Summer Job As Cook For The Kennedys

DETROIT (AP) — She was only a cook, recalls pretty Sharon Connors, but that didn't matter: She was cooking for the Kennedys at Hyannis Port.

"It was the most wonderful, most exciting summer ever," she tells her classmates and instructors at Marygrove College.

The home economics major from Buffalo, N.Y., was hired as assistant cook at the Cape Cod home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, parents and grandparents of the Kennedy clan.

"When I met Jackie, my hands were in dishwater," Miss Connors, 21, said in an interview. "Everything you ever read about her is true."

The widow of President John F. Kennedy spends much time with the children, Miss Connors said.

"Caroline and John are unspoiled and unaffected," she said. "The children's days are planned for them, every minute is filled. They have lessons in swimming, riding, tennis, surfing, boating and water skiing."

"Promptly at six every evening they go to see their grandfather. This is a regular ritual."

The auburn-haired, gray-eyed Miss Connors said she helped prepare two dinner parties, one to celebrate the 78th birthday of Joseph Kennedy — "I call him papa" — and one to celebrate the 76th birthday of his wife, Rose.

"They're a meat, potatoes, vegetable and dessert family," she said. "Favorites are roast beef, chicken, custards, snow puddings, fresh fruit and berries and, on Fridays, lobster."

Opinion polls last week reported as many as 20 per cent of the voters undecided, which that late in the campaign probably meant uninterested.

Republican hopes for a really significant increase in their House strength rest on the possibility that the vague, voiceless dissatisfaction of many voters with the war in Viet Nam, high prices, Negro riots and Johnson's performance in general, will produce a last-minute surge of support for GOP candidates.

Although a GOP pickup of 25 or 30 seats would still leave the Democrats a theoretical edge of 95 or 100 seats, it could sharply reduce chances for Johnson's domestic program.

Paper majorities don't tell the whole story in the House because a large bloc of conservative Democrats, mainly from the South, frequently vote with Republicans against the administration.

On a dozen votes in the 89th Congress, key administration bills were passed or saved from emasculation by fewer than 50 votes. A switch of 25 votes would have been fatal.

'Great Society' In The Hands Of Voters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The future of President Johnson's "Great Society" could be largely determined Tuesday when voters select a new House of Representatives.

Although Democrats appear certain to retain control of the House, it seems equally certain the big majority that enabled Johnson to launch his far-reaching domestic program will be reduced.

The question, which can't be answered until the polls close, is how much?

On election eve, Democratic and Republican strategists, in separate assessments of House races, are in near agreement that Republicans stand to gain between 25 and 30 seats. They had 140 seats to the Democrats' 295 in the 89th Congress.

The big worry for Democrats is that in an off-year election, a lot of voters will stay home because no big issue is agitating them.

Opinion polls last week reported as many as 20 per cent of the voters undecided, which that late in the campaign probably meant uninterested.

Things Bad For The Heart And Good For Teenagers

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Science has confirmed the claim of many teen-agers that they actually can study better while listening to loud music. Tests showed, however, that this was true only of high school students, not of college students.

Psychologists say baseball players are at peak form at the age of 28, golfers from 25 to 35, bowlers from 30 to 34. Horse players often aren't at their best until 65, when they can devote their entire time to the game.

Liquor, which sometimes makes people act like monkeys, also can make monkeys act like people. Researchers have found that alcohol can calm the fears of monkeys, but they can become so fond of its tranquilizing effects that they become animal alcoholics.

Aren't you glad that your hungry child doesn't grow at the same rate as do the larvae of the monarch butterfly? If he did, in about two weeks you'd have an eight-ton kid on your hands.

THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS

The title for every piece of real estate in the county depends upon the records in the recorder's office. Those records must be carefully preserved.

At no time has anyone been denied the right to inspect and copy or photograph the records in the recorder's office. But Mr. Marino requested the privilege of taking the books apart and removing pages therefrom to facilitate making photographic copies. That privilege was denied to him. If that privilege had been granted to Mr. Marino it would have been necessary to extend the same privilege to the other abstractors, the lawyers and everyone interested in making copies of the records. The safety of the public records would have been impaired.

Upon being denied this special privilege, Mr. Marino caused a suit to be brought in the Circuit Court against Reno Johnson, the recorder, to have Mr. Marino's rights determined, but after all the evidence had been heard by the court, Mr. Marino caused the case to be dismissed before any ruling was made by the court. As a result, Reno Johnson continues to operate the recorder's office on the basis that utmost care will be exercised to safeguard the records and that no special privilege will be granted to any person or any group.

For the safety of the public records and for the continued policy of equal courtesy to all but special privilege to none, re-elect Reno Johnson as Recorder of Deeds.

Eight Killed On Weekend In Missouri

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight persons lost their lives in Missouri weekend traffic accidents.

A 13-year-old Joplin boy, Gary Foster, died in a two-car accident Sunday night on Interstate 44, about 10 miles west of Mt. Vernon. The driver of the car, Mrs. Pamela Sanders, 17, Joplin, her mother, Mrs. Margaret Parrish, 52, Joplin, and James Foster, 19, brother of Gary, were hospitalized.

The Highway Patrol said the accident apparently happened when Lonnie Wynn, 19, Welch, Okla., tried to pass the Sanders car and then struck the rear of the machine. The Sanders car left the highway and overturned several times. Wynn was not hurt.

Four Webster Groves residents died Saturday night in the collision of a passenger train and their car near High Hill in eastern Missouri.

The dead were Granade Dickerson, 37, the driver, his wife Mildred, 38, and John Leslie Lees, 45, and his wife Mary, 42. Patrolmen said the car failed to stop for the oncoming Norfolk and Western train on Route F in Montgomery County.

Diana Jean Flue, 18, Granite City, Ill., was killed Sunday in a one-car accident on U. S. 50 east of Jefferson City. She was a passenger in a car driven by David Leroy Phillips, 19, of Eldon, Mo., who suffered minor injuries. The highway patrol said Phillips' car ran off the road and overturned.

John Maurice Lotz, 44, Nettleton, Mo., was killed Sunday in a one-car accident on old U. S. 36 east of Hamilton. His wife Wanda, 38, suffered a fractured leg and facial cuts. The car missed a curve and hit a tree two and one-half miles east of Hamilton.

Charles Willis, 44, Bridgeton, was killed Saturday when his car hit a guard rail on Interstate 70 in St. Louis.

Ten persons were killed in traffic accidents in Kansas over the weekend.

Mental Health Film To Be Made In Joplin Area

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Division of Mental Diseases will soon produce a color-sound movie showing how a community mental health program can be developed.

It will be filmed in the Joplin area and will be financed with federal funds.

Dr. George A. Ulett, division director, said today Joplin was chosen because that city was one of the first in the state to develop a coordinated pattern of community action to provide an adequate mental health program.

It will open with the establishment of the first traveling clinic out of Nevada State Hospital in 1956.

Also included will be the first mental health clinic at Freeman Hospital, the incorporation of the community's Ozark Psychiatric Foundation, building of the present mental health clinic and of the new diagnostic and evaluation clinic on Newman Road. Some of the activities in pushing for the proposed community mental health center adjacent to the new St. John's Hospital will be covered as well.

Dr. Ulett said he hoped the film will help other communities get mental health programs underway.

It was the idea of Dr. Richard B. Cravens, chief of the division's section on community mental health services. Director will be Louis E. Masterman, assistant professor of community health and medical practice at the University of Missouri's School of Medicine, Columbia.

Technical director will be Monte Gurwit, program director of KOMO-TV, Columbia.

Tendon Transplant Operates Finger

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP) — Margaret Roberts plays the flute in her high school band today with a little finger that flexes normally because of a tendon donated by a 65-year-old woman.

The transplant from the woman shortly after she died was performed two years ago with a surgical technique developed at the University of North Carolina school of medicine in Chapel Hill.

The Carteret High School sophomore can play three keys of the flute with the little finger on her right hand. The finger, damaged when she was a toddler, had been stiff but not painful.

PANAMA (AP) — Thirty persons have died and 49 more are missing in floods in eastern Panama, government officials reported today.

They said more than 800 persons have lost their homes in the flooding of the Pacroa and Chepo rivers. The floods began Friday after torrential rains.

LONDON (AP) — Organizers of a Viet Nam charity concert bowed to protests from show business personalities Sunday night and agreed that money raised would pay for medical aid to both sides in the war — not just the Viet Cong.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Anti-Communist leaders from 23 countries and regions agreed today to form a "World Anti-Communist League" to coordinate movements across the world to check Communist infiltration.

They adopted a draft charter which is to be signed Tuesday at the final session of the 12th annual convention of the Asian Peoples Anti-Communist League.

Delegates are attending the convention from Australia, Ceylon, Hong Kong, India, Iran, Japan, Jordan, Kenya, South Korea, Laos, Liberia, Libya, Macao, Malaysia, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, the Ryukyus, Somalia, Thailand, Turkey, South Viet Nam and Nationalist China.

Ultraright Nationalists New Problem

BONN, Germany (AP) — The upsurge of an ultraright nationalist party in the Hesse state election presented new problems today to West German politicians seeking to oust Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The National Democratic party often attacked as neo-Nazi, took 7.9 per cent of the vote Sunday and won its first seats in a state Parliament, eight out of 96.

Hesse is an important state in the heart of West Germany, the area around Frankfurt and Wiesbaden.

The Socialists increased their share of the vote by a small fraction to 51 per cent and picked up an additional seat in the state Parliament. They will continue to have a clear majority. The Christian Democrats lost slightly but not as much as expected.

The advance made by the NPD was likely to strengthen the hand of former Defense Minister Franz-Josef Strauss and others urging that the dominant Christian Democratic party take a more nationalist line, like President Charles de Gaulle's.

The National Democrats have no seats in the federal Parliament and no direct influence. But their surge of success is bound to make more prominent politicians want to steal their thunder.

Erhard was meeting Strauss today as well as other leaders of his party. The chancellor was still officially trying to put together a new Bundestag majority to replace the one that collapsed Oct. 27 when the four ministers from the Free Democratic party resigned rather than approve higher taxes to buy American arms and balance the budget.

Erhard was given no chance of success, but he seems to be hanging on to influence in the choice of his successor.

PROTECTION FOR WHOM?

The present recorder's last ditch efforts are those of a politician playing the old political "shell game." He whitewashes his conduct in office by raising a fake issue to distract the voters. He avoids answering critical questions.

Safekeeping and protection of public records is a matter of public law.

Protecting privileged businesses from competition is political insurance. Getting an elected public official to cooperate with the opening of a LOOSE LEAF BINDER is a practical problem, not a legal case.

The present recorder allows the dominating abstract company to take the deed books out of its vault. These public records are removed to their private office:

WITHOUT BEING CHECKED IN OR OUT. WITHOUT VERIFICATION THAT THE RECORDS RETURNED ARE THE SAME RECORDS THAT WERE TAKEN WITHOUT THE PROTECTION OF SUPERVISION.

The present recorder, however, refuses to cooperate to help a new business:

He will not permit this company to photograph each page of these same loose leaf record books. This microfilming would be done inside his vault. He would have complete supervision and control.

He refuses to cooperate with a new company, Sedalia Land Title Corporation, despite the fact that this modern microfilming method is being used in the vast majority of Recorder's offices, state and nationwide. This is the ONLY way to bring the abstract business into the 20th century.

Why does the recorder refuse to cooperate? Why did he employ the services of a private attorney? All office holders have available, FREE, the services of the Prosecuting Attorney.

Why did he pick Sedalia's leading real estate attorney? Didn't Reno Johnson know that this lawyer has had a long historical and financially dependent association with the abstract company.

The recorder states he is protecting public records. ISN'T HE REALLY PROTECTING A PRIVILEGED FEW?

Vietnam Bravery

Capt. To Be Recommended For Medal of Honor

WAR ZONE C, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. company commander who was "all over the battlefield," who picked up a jammed machine gun, cleared it and knocked out two bunkers, and who was wounded in the back and didn't notice it until after the battle, will be recommended for the Medal of Honor by his 25th Infantry Division company.

He is Capt. Robert F. Foley, 25, from Belmont, Mass., a tall, angular officer who received an interim award of the Silver Star today.

His company, Alpha, from the 2nd Battalion, 27th Regiment — Wolfhounds — intends to recommend him for the highest American gallantry award "as soon as the paperwork is completed."

The paperwork includes the interviewing of many soldiers wounded with Foley as the company attempted to link up Saturday with a company trapped by murderous Viet Cong machine-gun fire in Tay Ninh Province, northwest of Saigon.

Foley's company didn't make the linkup, but did manage to gather up all their wounded and pull back without being overrun, a major feat.

The bravery of Foley, who coolly analyzed his company's predicament under fire, directed assaults to get the wounded back, and moved with his forward units oblivious to concentrated fire from a reinforced enemy regiment, was outstanding in three days of bitter fighting that saw many acts of bravery.

In addition to Foley, four other men from the 27th Wolfhounds were awarded medals Monday. They were Pfc. William H. Wallace, Williston Park, L.I., the Silver Star; Pfc. Charles D. Deane, Redwood City, Calif., the Bronze Medal with V for Valor; and two other Bronze Star winners, Staff Sgt. James Powe, Pearl City, Hawaii; and Platoon Sgt. Floro Rivera, Wahiawa, Hawaii.

Foley's company was the worst hit of the 11 American companies involved in hard fighting Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Just 50 yards out of the forward base perimeter, the company came under a murderous rain of fire from bunkers.

The Viet Cong had cut lanes in the deep jungle, and these were visible to the Americans only when they moved into one. By then, it was always too late. "Every man among us was fired on at least 50 times," said 2nd Lt. Harold K. Graves, Mill Valley, Calif., who remembered seeing snipers tied in trees.

"It was bad in there," Foley recalled. "When we moved quickly, we would stumble into the lanes of machine-gun fire. If we moved slowly, the snipers would go after us, picking us off one by one."

Foley decided that the wounded up front had to be brought back. He directed a series of fire and maneuver actions, sending a few of the men on an assault, then moving up men behind them.

The company kept taking casualties, but more and more wounded were being dragged in.

Foley "was a tower of strength, a superman," said one of his platoon leaders.

Foley said the battle got heavier, with increasing numbers of enemy weapons opening fire. He had to cancel the original mission of going to the rescue of C Company, 50 yards away, and concentrate on getting his own wounded back.

Every wounded man made it.

Attempt To Smuggle Woman Into Britain

DOVER, England (AP) — Ronald Gray, a Californian living in Britain, drove a small truck off the channel ferry at Dover Saturday night and told the customs men: "All I have to declare are 200 cigarettes and a bottle of perfume."

The customs men searched the truck.

"I put my hand under a heap of clothing and felt something warm," one official reported. Out came Barbara Gryma, 22, a Polish blonde. She tearfully pleaded to be allowed to stay in Britain.

After questioning at the Dover police station, Gray, 37, was allowed to go. The girl was put on a ferry back to France since she had no visa. An immigration officer said he understood she was returning to Poland, and the home office said no question of political asylum had been involved.

Gray reportedly runs a laundry in the Midlands. His birth-

Going Rough For Army's Wolfhounds

DAU TIENG, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U. S. Army's Wolfhounds, the 27th Infantry of the 25th Division, have seen some of the hardest fighting of the war since they came to Viet Nam last January. None of it was tougher than this weekend.

They fought a dogged enemy in jungle so thick a man could hardly see five yards in any direction. They held on grimly as automatic weapons fire ripped into their positions and exploding mines sent bits of metal screaming through the tangled vines. They didn't flinch as six charging Communist assaults attempted to overrun them.

The Wolfhounds were among U.S. infantrymen fighting the battle for Tay Ninh Province along with the 196th Light Infantry Brigade and troops of the "Big Red One," the U.S. 1st Division. It is believed that most of a crack Viet Cong division makes up the enemy force.

The fighting built up Thursday and continued over the weekend, erupting at scattered points in this tangled terrain some 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

Heroism was commonplace.

In the midst of one enemy assault, a young lieutenant clambered to his feet and asked his men in a low, controlled voice: "Are any of you hurt? Are you all right?"

One company of the Wolfhounds was cut off, surrounded by the enemy troops that swarmed through the brush. The fate of the Americans was in doubt for a time. Then came a radio message from the center of the fighting: "We can take care of our own."

When another company broke through, they found the bodies of the dead and the wounded of both sides intermingled. The outnumbered company was still fighting, and it had taken care of its own.

The ways of jungle combat that the Americans learned in almost a year of action in Viet Nam paid off here. They answered with deadly fire every thrust and charge by a foe they have learned to respect.

After one Communist charge, a veteran American sergeant said: "They're fighting for their lives, and they're damn good." But the American infantrymen were good, too.

Maj. Guy S. Meloy III of College Station, Tex., commander of the 27th Infantry's 1st Battalion, saw it this way: "My men are beautiful. They are the most magnificent fighters I have ever seen."

Meloy wore a bandage covering gashes in his right arm. Hit by shrapnel a short time before, he ignored the wound and refused to be evacuated.

"My job is here with my men," he said.

Mo. State Council 72 To Hold Convention

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri State Council 72, representing a claimed 2,000 public employees in the state, decided in convention this weekend to push for legislation allowing public employees to bargain collectively.

Arthur Hamm, the local's president, said today he told the delegates "the public employe is entitled to the same rights as other working Americans and we believe the General Assembly will recognize those rights."

It would take a constitutional change, approved by Missouri voters, before collective bargaining could be authorized for government employes in Missouri.

The convention also recommended that the state's contribution toward the retirement system be increased from the present 4 per cent to 6 per cent.

came down he felt what he believed was his landing gear strike a wire, but it snapped and did not interfere with his effort to bring the plane on in safety. He said he was almost stopped when the car struck the wing.

The accident occurred on a spot between the Ball Motor Co. and the Anderson School.

Bradford stated that he was not driving fast when he suddenly saw an object on the highway which he at first thought was a truck and trailer which had jackknifed, and before he could stop he saw that his lights went under something and then the wing of the airplane struck the windshield.

"The only light I saw was a red one, which I later learned was on the top of the tail of the plane," he said.

When the left wing of the plane struck the windshield it shattered in front of the driver and glass from it cut Bradford's head and arm. His wife, daughter and granddaughter escaped being struck by flying glass.

Damage to the automobile was the windshield, left front post, the top and deck lid as the wing bounced over the car.

About six feet of the left wing tip was extensively damaged.

The car was driven back to Sedalia, while Parks wrecker towed the plane down the highway to the Ball Motor Co., where it was parked.

Following the accident, highway traffic from the south was backed up for nearly two miles and traffic from the north backed up to the Meyers curve.

A motorist who was at the scene almost immediately after the crash and drove to the Henry Ash residence north of the scene from where a call was made to the Sedalia Police Department. The Highway Patrol was then notified by the police.

Ash and his father drove to the scene and handled traffic until the Patrol and Sheriff Emmett Fairfax arrived.

In the 28th of east central Missouri, Frank McGraw, Marshall school superintendent, faces stiff opposition from John C. Ryan, Sedalia automobile dealer who lives in the biggest county in the district.

In the 26th District, which includes St. Charles, Warren and parts of St. Louis and Franklin counties, the battle is between William M. Corrigan of Ballwin, chairman of the State Banking Board, and Edward Stone Jr. of Chesterfield, a Monsanto Co. executive.

In the heaviest voting unit of the state, St. Louis County, Republicans are confident that County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos will defeat Nathan B. Kaufman, mayor of University City. A big Roos sweep could carry many other GOP candidates in the county with him.

Contributing to interest in the metropolitan areas is a park bond issue in St. Louis County which barely lost the first time around and 18 separate bond issue proposals in the city of St. Louis totaling $107.3 million.

Kansas City also has proposals to increase city council salaries, put municipal judges under a nonpartisan system, levy a tax to re-assess property values and increase the school tax by 55 cents.

Five bond issues totaling $2.5 million will be before the voters at Springfield and Joplin has a $120,000 bond issue for a new city health building.

In southeastern Missouri, a plan to abolish the outmoded township system has stirred up a hot fight in Dunklin County, one of the 24 counties still clinging to a system that has been attacked as wasteful and obsolete.

Three state senators are elected automatically without opposition.

All Democrats, they are incumbent Sens. Earl R. Blackwell of Hillsboro and John E. Downs of St. Joseph and a newcomer — Lawrence J. Lee, St. Louis city prosecutor.

Lee succeeds to the 3rd District seat of former Sen. Paul M. Berra, who resigned in mid-term to become St. Louis city treasurer. The district is so heavily Democratic that Republicans did not even put up a candidate.

American casualties were termed light so far in both.

In Operation Geronimo, a company of the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division reported killing seven North Vietnamese soldiers in a 30-minute fire fight before dawn, raising the total enemy killed in the eight day operation to 21.

The U.S. 4th Infantry Division reported killing 30 Communists in Operation Adams, which was launched October 26. It is the first independent operation the division has begun since it arrived in South Viet Nam two months ago.

American pilots flew 127 missions through moderate to heavy ground fire in North Viet Nam Sunday. U.S. headquarters said. The pilots claimed destruction of one Communist patrol boat, 19 barges, seven bridges, six buildings, two anti-aircraft sites and 33 trucks, and other strikes against petroleum dumps.

The patrol boat was hit after it fired on U.S. planes making an identification pass, the U.S. command said.

Final GOP Meet Held At Hubbard

Mrs. Samantha Cunningham, Vice Chairman of the Fourth Congressional District and County Committeewoman from the 17th Ward Jackson County was the principal speaker at the final Republican Rally held Saturday night at the Hubbard School.

Mrs. Cunningham in her remarks stated that, "Many times I've been asked, 'Why are you a Republican?' My answer has always been the same, because I believe in the basic principles of the Republican Party. Whatever it was that caused the Republican Party to come into existence, it was done that I might live. I believe that the Party was created for my people, therefore I am one of its heirs — this is my Party by birthright. I believe that out of the suffering, the groans, the tears and the sincere prayers of my people, did God see fit to touch the hearts of patriots, statesman and a martyr and directed them to establish the Republican Party; and this is the Party of all ethnic groups, established to serve the needs of all."

In conclusion, Mrs. Cunningham summed up her remarks by saying, "First the New Deal, then the Fair Deal, the New Frontier and now the Great Society is lining us up for the BIG Bread Line. We will have made a great mistake if we permit the President to form a great national political party known as the Great Society. He (L.B.J.) would do this by offering and dangling selfish temptations and prizes to any and all separate interests if they will form the one political party and help promote the Great Society."

The County Republican Committee Chairman, H. Leroy Luchs, as he introduced the local candidates pointed out that the Republican Candidates have been engaged in a true person to person campaign. All the candidates spoke briefly.

John Ryan, candidate for State Senator of the 28th District, set the pace for the candidates by stating in his brief remarks that most all in attendance knew him and what he stood for so he would talk to each and everyone of them at length during the refreshment period and give his speaking time to the main speaker, Mrs. Cunningham.

Oscar Lawson, Committeeman of the first precinct, second ward, conducted the meeting with approximately 100 in attendance. Lawrence Kurr, Committeeman of the first precinct, first ward, gave the invocation and benediction. Mrs. Evelyn Cox, Committeewoman of the first precinct, first ward; and Mrs. Wilma Johnson, Committeewoman of the first precinct workers served refreshments.

Pfc. Commands Company After Leaders All Killed

Hindu Show Touches Off Destruction

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A big Hindu demonstration against the slaughter of India's sacred cows turned today into a citywide rampage of arson, looting and wanton destruction.

The army was called into help control the situation.

Unofficial reports said at least five persons had been killed by police bullets.

The government ordered a full curfew on the city for 48 hours and banned gatherings of five or more persons.

Vastly outnumbered police forces were repulsed several times before they mounted an offensive which sent rioters scattering from outside the Parliament building.

The main crowd of at least 100,000 broke up, running in all directions. But small groups of youthful hoodlums set out on a wild rampage, stoning and burning cars, threatening foreigners and looking for open business premises they could enter.

As the mob dispersed its fury intensified. Soon the many winding side streets adjacent to Parliament Street were full of shouting young men stopping all passing cars, ordering their occupants into the streets and then setting fire to the vehicles. The trouble appeared started in front of All-India Radio on Parliament Street about a block from Hindu leaders haranguing a crowd with demands for a nationwide ban on the slaughter of cows. The Hindus regard them as sacred.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, showing deep distress, told Parliament that the atmosphere of growing violence spells danger to India's democratic way of life. She said the violence is being deliberately incited and that the government is determined to put it down "whatever the cost."

Air Force Premature On New Light Claim

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Air Force was a bit premature in boasting it had a new light that robbed the Viet Cong of the advantage of darkness.

"No longer can Charlie (the Viet Cong), operate as a phantom under the cover of darkness," declared Maj. Gen. M.C. Demler, the Air Force research chief, at a Washington conference in late September.

A spokesman in Saigon asked to see the new device in action board a plane. An Air Force spokesman said it wasn't operating.

It was tried out for about a month in July, the spokesman said, but "it developed a few bugs."

The device is called AGIL — airborne general illumination light. Demler said it puts out 6 million candlepower and from a 12,000-foot altitude can cover a 315-mile area with light "four times that of a full moon."

The spokesman here did not give details on the troubles which had developed. He said an evaluation report has been sent to Washington.

his radio for a shield as he saw Communist bullets kill his battalion commander, his company commander and the nearest platoon leader.

Then the bullets began tattooing death among the squads of the 25th Division infantry company that had run into a wall of enemy fire in the big battle in Tay Ninh Province forward or turn back.

Snipers started picking off the platoon sergeants, the squad leaders and the radiomen.

With the leaders dead, dying or wounded, the situation for C Company, 2nd Battalion of the 27th Wolfhounds was critical.

Pfc. William H. Wallace's radio crackled to life and a rasping voice asked, "Zulu Six, please come in, please come in."

The call was from another battalion commander trying to determine what had happened. Zulu Six was the call sign of the company commander, but he was dead.

Wallace, crouching near a tree, reported this and the other bad news.

"Then you are Zulu Six," the voice crackled back. "Now do this."

For the next 22 hours, through a long dangerous night and a day of fighting and waiting, Wallace, 23, of Williston Park, Long Island, N.Y., was the company commander.

Today, two days later, Wallace was awarded a Silver Star for his bravery.

"You're a hero," a newsman told him.

"I'm alive," Wallace replied. Wallace, with one year in the Army, had heavy responsibilities weighing upon him in the dense jungles of War Zone C.

Every time his men moved their heads, snipers tied in trees fired on them. Enemy machine guns in bunkers fired inexhaustibly.

Wounded Americans were moaning for assistance, some forward gunners were running out of ammunition, and a few squads had been almost wiped out.

Wallace relayed all this information back to Maj. Guy S. Meloy, III, of College Station, Tex., who had taken over operational command of American units in the battle.

"When darkness comes," Meloy told him, "Don't fire your weapons and give away your positions. Don't throw any grenades. Don't let Charlie (the Viet Cong) know where you are exactly."

Wallace passed this word along, and much else.

"It was fantastic," he said. "At times there would be a drumfire of enemy bullets spurring in on us. How were we to know this was not the main enemy assault, an attempt to overrun us? But the men held their fire. I don't know where they got the will power."

Wallace, a crew-cut, 6-footer, said he didn't know how he got through the 22 hours himself. For all that time he was on the radio, passing out orders to the remnants of C Company and giving information to Meloy and headquarters in the rear.

"My voice held up, even though I didn't expect to see the day through," he said. "We were expecting a final enemy thrust, and we felt that if it came it would be the end."

But the Viet Cong did not attempt that final thrust against C Company. Instead, the attack was directed against Meloy's units 300 yards away, and it failed.

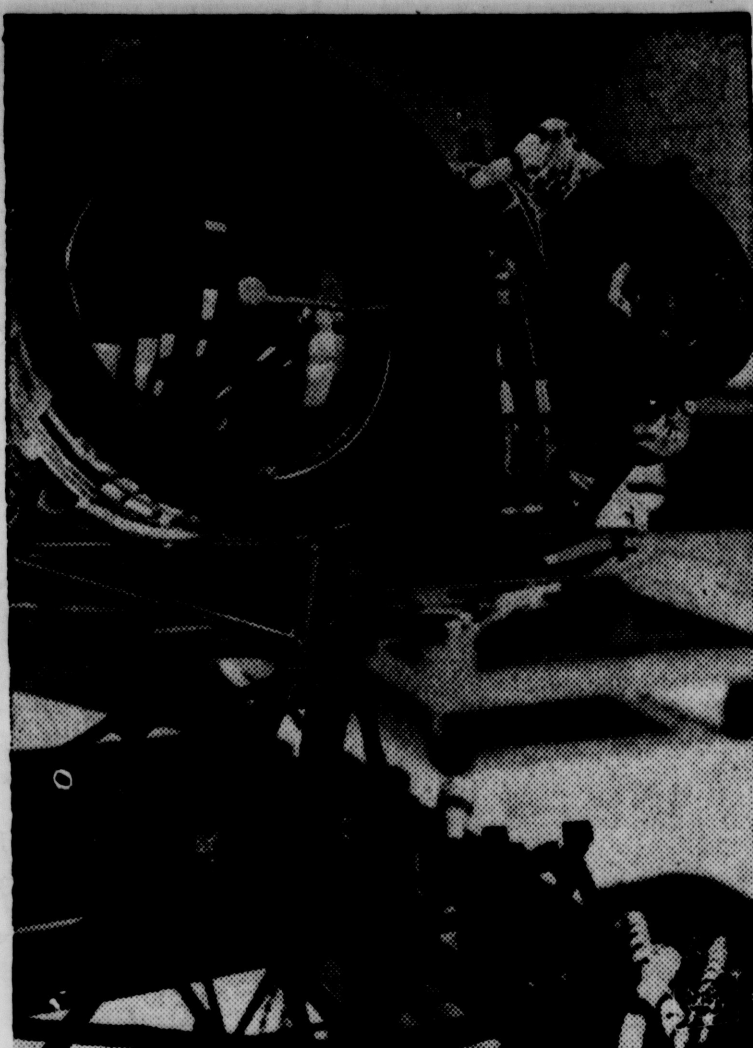

Meloy said Wallace "was scared out of his wits, and I don't blame him a bit. I want to meet him and I want to recommend him for the Silver Star. He deserves it."

Wallace got his Silver Star and admitted he was scared all the time.

When a relief column managed to link up with his battered company and all the men were evacuated to a safer area, Wallace took a few moments to write to his wife, who is expecting a baby this week.

"I want you to know I'm safe," he told her. "It is rough over here, but I would rather do it than have my son face it. We have to fight this war somewhere, and we are fighting it here."

Wallace plans to attend warrant officers' school after he leaves Viet Nam and make the Army his career.

Lack Of Registered Nurses Near

OSAGE BEACH, Mo. (AP) — Missouri hospitals will be crippled by a critical lack of registered nurses in the near future unless administrators and trustees act quickly, a national nursing authority said today.

Speaking at the opening session of the annual convention of the Missouri Hospital Association, Mrs. Margaret G. Ellis, Chicago, a nurse consultant, noted that nurses in some rural hospitals are being paid $275 a month, half what they can earn in other parts of the nation.

In the past 15 years, she said, Missouri has become known as a "feeder state," with more of the nurses training in Missouri seeking jobs in other areas than stay in the state.

"This drain-off will soon reach critical proportions unless hospital officials take steps to meet competition," she said. She said the American Nurses Association has set a goal of $6,500 in minimum annual salaries for nurses across the nation by the end of 1966.

John B. Warner Jr., a St. Louis hospital consultant, said four people hold key spots in hospitals for holding down costs — controller, purchasing agent, plant manager and personnel director.

"Gone are the days," he said, "when a bookkeeper can be put in charge of a hospital's fiscal policies, or a mechanic can be

Egyptian Airplanes Bomb Saudi Arabia

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Egyptian Soviet-made bombers from Yemen have bombed two towns in Saudi Arabia, killing or wounding at least 14 civilians, an American correspondent reported today.

The planes struck after dawn Oct. 14 while Saudi Arabian anti-aircraft crews were asleep, said Lawrence Mosher, Middle East correspondent for the Co-ley News Service.

Mosher spent three days with Royalist forces in Yemen. He said Egyptian bombers were flying four raids a day against Royalist tribesmen despite the cease-fire agreed to 14 months ago. He inspected the bomb damage in the town of Najran, in southern Saudi Arabia.

Neither Egypt nor Saudi Arabia has reported the bomb attacks.

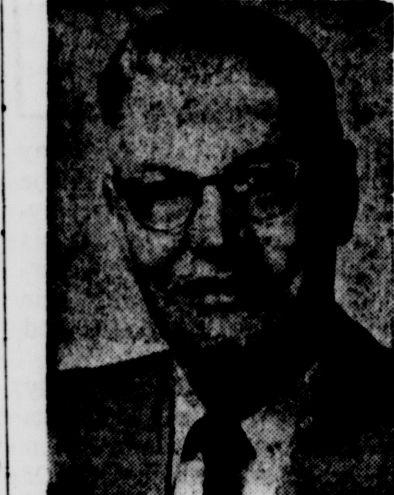

Acting on a pledge from the late President John F. Kennedy that the United States would support Saudi Arabia's integrity, the U.S. Air Force flew in a dozen F100 Super Sabre Jets from West Germany in May 1963, and reportedly kept them there for two months.

Hospitals must upgrade their employees, he said.

"Hospital costs are going up," he added. "As a result hospitals must make sure they get more for their money in the future if they are to bring about sizable economies."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission has urged electric utility companies to coordinate their operations to eliminate the possibility of a power blackout similar to the one that paralyzed the Northeast a year ago.

In an interim report released over the weekend, the FPC said the blackout last year was beneficial because of its lessons.

Falls To His Death Before Plane Crash

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Daniel Janzen fell to his death just before his plane crashed and federal investigators say nothing in the wreckage indicates mechanical failure.

Investigators said today they didn't know why he fell from the single-engine aircraft Saturday.

Janzen, 21, a Stanford University graduate, landed on an apartment rooftop so hard that it left an outline of his body imbedded in the roof. He wore no parachute.

"It revealed deficiencies in the planning and operation of power systems which had not become apparent to the utilities in supplying electric power under unusual circumstances," the commission said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Chu-yuan Cheng, an authority on China, says the Chinese Communists will have a long-range missile able to reach the United States within five years.

"With these missiles," Cheng said in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report, "Communist China can really threaten neighboring countries and may someday threaten the United States."

Who Will Make Decisions?

"Everybody is willing to turn the machine on, but nobody is willing to turn the machine off. The doctor needs some help in making this decision."

The words, spoken during a panel discussion between physicians and clergymen who are members of the American Medical Association's Committee on Medicine and Religion, accurately sum up the medical-moral quandary that is facing more and more doctors today.

The "machine" may simply be new drugs which keep the body going long after the spirit has surrendered; or it may be an actual one—a mechanical device like a respirator or pump that takes over the functions of the lungs or kidneys. One day it will be the artificial heart which medical science is on the threshold of perfecting.

Headlines recently told of the first implantation of a partial artificial heart in a patient by famed surgeon Michael DeBakey. It is significant that DeBakey himself raised questions about the profound implications of this development.

"Should this lifesaving device be made available to every patient," he asked, "even the hopeless victim of stroke, cancer or senility? . . . And who decides to terminate the power flow in such cases?"

Physicians, of course, have always been faced with agonizing decisions concerning the life or death of their patients. Today, however, the choice is frequently not that between restored, productive life on the one hand and unfortunate death on the other, but between pain-releasing death and a prolonged existence in a vegetative limbo measured only by a series of pulse beats on an oscilloscope.

In such cases, the question ceases to be a purely medical one and begins to take on theological and legal aspects, transforming itself into something which neither physicians nor theologians nor lawyers are yet prepared to cope with.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Pennsylvania Learning of Tolerance

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Back in 1914 my father, Paul M. Pearson, then President of the Swarthmore Chautauqua, scheduled three religious speakers, Rabbi Steven S. Wise of New York, Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, famed Presbyterian minister of Brooklyn, and Father John Ryan, chairman of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, to speak in Pennsylvania communities.

This brought vigorous, almost violent opposition — chiefly against hearing Father Ryan. There was some opposition to hearing Rabbi Wise.

My father was not one to yield on an issue of free speech. In the end, Father Ryan and Rabbi Wise were received.

This was 50 years ago and times have changed. In 1958 Pennsylvania elected its first Catholic governor, David Lawrence, and this year the first Jew may become governor of Pennsylvania.

The Jewish candidate, Milton Shapp, is a businessman who built up a small fortune manufacturing TV antennas and electronics, and has now sold his factories so he would avoid even the most remote conflict of interest. Also he needed a small fortune to run his campaign.

Shapp's battle is one of the most significant in the entire United States. He is running not so much against the Republican candidate as against the entrenched interests which have long dominated Pennsylvania politics — the utility companies, the power companies, the railroads. The only alternative to their lobbies, Shapp claims, is a people's lobby.

He has accused these companies of avoiding real estate tax on most of their property, based upon their 1964 profits, their tax base should have been $6.9 billion.

"Up in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties," said the turbulent candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, "the Pennsylvania Gas and Water Company owns 70,000 acres of land which it's keeping as a private game preserve. Its streams are stocked by the state of Pennsylvania. It allows no hunting by the public. And it pays only a pittance in taxes.

"In Northumberland County the Roaring Creek Water Company has 15,000 acres of land, which it set aside as a private hunting preserve," continues Shapp. "Its President, Douglas McWilliams, has been appointed to the State Game Commission, yet last year he was arrested for shooting over his quota of deer.

"Again the Roaring Creek Water Company pays only a pittance of taxes on this land," says the man who is running for governor of Pennsylvania. "If I am elected I am going to abolish the private game preserve for this Game Commissioner."

The Sedalia police department will be radio-equipped within the next six weeks, according to announcement by Police Chief Anderson and Atwill Bohling, chairman of the council police committee. The official order for the equipment was signed by Mayor Julian H. Bagby. The local station will be of 50-watt capacity. Ed McLaughlin, chairman of the fire and water committee, stated his committee is contemplating on obtaining a two-way set for the west Sedalia fire truck.

Nice Ironies In Johnson-Nixon Hassle

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are some nice ironies in the hassle between President Johnson and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. And now it's a question of who got under whose skin.

Johnson looked irritated. But so did Nixon. Although Johnson isn't saying so, two actions he took can be interpreted as undercutting a Nixon suggestion and refuting a Nixon prediction.

Last Aug. 7 Nixon said he saw no possibility of a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese war and called for a "substantial increase" in American ground forces in Viet Nam and stepped up bombing of the North.

On Sept. 11 he was saying there was a grave danger the administration would go overboard in increasing American forces in Viet Nam. And, although he had said he saw no possibility of a negotiated settlement, he switched.

On Aug. 23 Nixon joined other Republicans in urging an all-Asia peace conference, although Peking, Hanoi and the Viet Cong had rejected the idea.

Then Johnson announced he was going to a Manila conference with the leaders of six Asian and Pacific nations: Australia, New Zealand, South Viet Nam, Thailand, South Korea, and the Philippines.

This was not exactly the Asian conference Nixon might have had in mind, but it was a conference between the United States and its Pacific allies in Viet Nam.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford frankly said Johnson's decision to go to Manila with Asian nations had undercut the Republicans' proposals for an all-Asian conference.

And Senate Republicans, beforehand, quickly played down the importance of the trip, saying it offered little hope of peace initiatives. Nevertheless, on Johnson's return Nixon complained last Friday the conference had brought peace no nearer.

But it was when he complained about the statement issued by Johnson and the six other leaders at Manila that Nixon left himself wide open for the attack Johnson made on him.

Nixon put special emphasis on one point in the statement, the one in which the seven signers said: The allied forces would withdraw from Viet Nam "after close consultations as the other side withdraws its forces to the North, ceases infiltration, and the level of violence thus subsides. Those forces will be withdrawn as soon as possible and not later than six months after the above conditions have been fulfilled."

Concentrating on that section which said allies would withdraw within six months after the North Vietnamese withdrew, he said this left the fate of South Viet Nam to the Viet Cong. But he skipped lightly over the section which also said the allies would not withdraw until violence had subsided.

This part, made of rubber, left a loophole, since the allies would be the ones who decided when violence had subsided and South Viet Nam was safe. And Johnson stressed this hard in his attack on Nixon later.

But this wasn't the only time Nixon butted heads with Johnson. Last Sept. 14 he predicted that after the November elections Johnson would find it necessary to announce a big increase in U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

But last Saturday, three days before the election, at Johnson's Texas ranch Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced that, "barring unforeseen circumstances," American forces in Viet Nam in 1967 would continue to grow but at a substantially lower rate than in 1966.

And McNamara said 1967 draft calls would be lower than in 1966. This was the complete opposite of what Nixon had predicted.

And Nixon didn't like this, either. He was irritated because McNamara made the announcement at the ranch. He called it "political fakery."

Opening lead—♥ Q

The toughest man to play rubber bridge against is the "lucky" player. The lucky player seems to hold more than his fair share of the cards and certainly bids more than his fair share of optimistic games and slams.

South was one of those lucky players. He counted 12 tricks when his partner showed him two aces and two kings. Of course he assumed that one of his partner's kings would be in clubs. Then all the extra he would need would be a singleton heart, the queen of spades, the jack of clubs or just a five-card club suit. Anyway South bid the grand slam.

When he saw dummy he wished he had settled for the 12 tricks he was sure of. There was no singleton heart, no extra queen or jack and no fifth club. He appeared to have those two bad chances, slim and none.

There was no point in giving up. He took the first heart and ran off four trumps. Maybe someone would make a wrong discard. No one did. West was under some pressure but he managed to hold on to all his spades and clubs by letting his jack and ten of hearts go.

South discarded the nine of hearts on the fourth trump, played the ace of spades, led a spade to dummy's king and ruffed a spade.

Then he led out his last trump and West had run out of discards. He couldn't let his last spade go since that would establish dummy's seven. He checked a club in the vain hope that his partner would hold the queen. Four club tricks gave South his grand slam.

Olathe Civic Leader And Editor Dies

OLATHE, Kan. (AP)—Ernest W. Miller, 75, civic leader and former editor of the Olathe Mirror, died Sunday. He suffered a heart attack two weeks ago.

Miller, owner of a shoe store 1918-1935, organized and was the first president of the Olathe Chamber of Commerce. He was editor of the weekly newspaper from 1939 until he became a real estate broker in 1951.

He was active in the Republican party and was in demand as a public speaker throughout the Midwest.

His widow and a daughter survive. The funeral will be Tuesday, 2 p.m.

Democrat Pick-ups

It was a day that looked like it might rain when two women went to a meeting, one wearing a raincoat and the other having an umbrella.

The woman with the raincoat had been wearing it all spring and summer, but this particular day when she started to put it on at the meeting she noticed that there was a little flap on the inside just below the collar, that had a buttonhole.

She was curious. What was that doing there? What did it button on to? Then she decided it must have a zipper lining, so she looked to see. Sure enough it did have. There was a zipper part and she had completely forgotten about it. So that is where that zipper lining hanging in her closet belonged, she thought, with a great deal of satisfaction. She really hadn't looked to see, but when she took something out of that closet real hurriedly one day this fall she saw that lining, wondered about it, but didn't have time to check. Now she knew.

The woman with the umbrella was a little forgetful, too. It was one of those folding-up umbrellas and the only thing she seemed to be able to remember about it was that she had to shake it open.

So, she shook it, but nothing happened. She shook some more, commenting that she was supposed to shake it open, and it was funny that it wouldn't open. So she kept on shaking. It just looked like an umbrella with the ribs broken about centerways up and it did absolutely nothing.

She shook it and shook it, whirled it, did everything she could think of. And then all at once she remembered. The little short handle had to be pulled out. She did this, making it full sized, shook it and it opened up right away.

Grinning, as she started toward the car under her umbrella she said, "Now, after I get to the car, if I can just figure out how to get it closed, I'll be all right." But she got it done without any trouble. — H. L.

Two Suffer Burns From Falling Acid

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A man and his wife suffered burns from acid that fell on them as they walked along Twelfth Street Sunday.

Robert E. Howard, 38, a battalion fire chief, was burned on the face and legs. His wife, Peggy, 33, received burns on the head and feet. Admitted to a hospital, they later were reported in satisfactory condition.

Police said the acid apparently was being used to clean windows of the Hotel Muehlebach and was spilled accidentally. A window cleaner's scaffold was hanging above the sidewalk.

Lagoons For Household Use?
With increasing publicity and use of lagoons for agricultural uses, more homeowners are asking questions about using lagoons for the disposal of household wastes.

Lagoons can be used for disposal of domestic wastes from the farm home. An M-U Guide entitled "Sewage Lagoons for Rural Homes" gives details of constructing the lagoon and conditions under which it works best.

While lagoons can be used, for most locations, the septic tank and disposal system of drain tile is best because it is completely hidden and therefore out of the way.

The rule of thumb would be, in situations where a septic tank will work, go to a little extra expense of installing one for the sewage disposal system. In areas of poor drainage where space is a factor, or other conditions where a septic tank does not fit into the scheme of things, then a lagoon certainly should be considered.

How Close To Graze
Livestockmen with various types of pasture grasses are asking how close they can be grazed.

So far as the maintenance of pastures is concerned, most of them should not be grazed closer than three to four inches in height. This is especially true of brome grass, alfalfa and timothy.

Rapid-growing grasses like fescue and orchard grass can, in cases of necessity, be grazed much closer with no serious permanent injury, especially if they can be permitted a recovery period when moisture conditions are favorable for regrowth. The same is true of bluegrass during a dormant period such as a hot dry period in July or August.

Beef Cattle Outlook
Cattle slaughter under Federal inspection during the first nine months of 1966 was about 5 per cent larger than the same period in 1965. During September and early October slaughter under Federal inspection has been about the same as a year earlier. There has been a shift in the proportion of the slaughter by the different classes of cattle. Steer slaughter during September and early October was up about 6 per cent from last year. Cow slaughter was down over 20 per cent and heifer slaughter was up about 2 per cent.

Even though the number of cattle slaughtered under Federal inspection during September and early October was about the same as last year the pounds of beef produced was up nearly 2 per cent because of heavy weights. The heavier weights resulted from cattle being fed to heavier weights and a larger proportion of the total slaughter being steers and heifers.

Cow slaughter dropped below the 1965 level in May and has continued to decrease each month compared to last year. On a weekly basis under Federal inspection the number of cows slaughtered was about the same in May of 1966 as in 1965, in June they were down about 8 per cent, July was down about 16 per cent, August 18 per cent, and September over 20 per cent, as compared to the same months a year earlier.

Cow slaughter is expected to continue well below 1965 through the remainder of this year as dairymen and feeder calf producers respond to the higher milk and calf prices.

Heifer slaughter probably will be about the same in November of this year as in 1965 but is expected to drop below last year during December, then stay below through 1967.

Steer slaughter was 6.7 per cent above last year during September and early October and is expected to continue above last year through the remainder of 1966 and most of the first quarter of 1967.

Swine Pick Up Unharvested Corn
Instead of leaving unharvested corn in the field, let swine pick it up. This practice may result in extra farm profits.

However, if hogs are used to glean corn left in the field after the crop has been picked, there are some guidelines to follow. The field must be fenced adequately. A farmer can't afford lost or strayed pigs or law suits resulting from accidents caused by animals straying on public roads.

A good supply of fresh, clean water must be available. Use pigs in the 75 to 125 pound range, rather than younger animals, to pick up unharvested corn.

Gleaned corn will supply the energy requirements of swine, but a source of vitamins, minerals, and protein is also needed.

These ration requirements can be met by hand feeding a complete protein supplement containing the necessary vitamins and minerals. A 35 to 40 per cent protein supplement should be fed at the rate of three-fourths of a pound to a pound per pig per day, varying according to size of the hog.

A second method to meet nutrition needs is to feed free choice equal parts of soybean meal and tankage.

Hogs should be topped out and sold at about 225 pounds. Feeding beyond this weight decreases feed efficiency and may reduce market price.

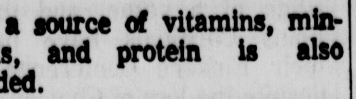

Be sure to remove hogs from the field when corn becomes so scarce animals can't meet their energy requirements.

Because of so many dry cows, our herd averages are down. In September our average was 877 lbs. milk — 31 lbs. butter fat per cow. In October we averaged 835 lbs. milk — 29 lbs. butter fat per cow. Larry McCollister had high herd for both months, Sept. 1145 milk — 41 B.F. and for October 989 lbs. milk — 36 lbs. B.F. per cow.

Our high cow in high ten, was Ned Monsees Van Fel Pica Sade with 1890 milk — 79 B.F. in September. Cloyd Merk was high with his 3-Spot cow, 2730 lbs. milk — 96 lbs. B.F. in October.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Oelrich of Mora, Mo. back into our Association. Wallace F. Cordes has an official per cow average of 15,727 lbs. of milk and 526 lbs. of butterfat, based on 9 completed lactations.

Protect Raw Grade
Farmers with new road grades or other raw grade surfaces are wondering how they can protect the grade from erosion during the winter.

HYBRID VIGOR IN BEEF CATTLE is being studied by University of Missouri scientists in the College of Agriculture's animal husbandry department. The nine-year project, now in its second year, involves determining the hybrid vigor (heterosis) from crossing purebreds. Being used are Angus, Herefords, and Charolais. Breeding work is carried on at the University's North Missouri Center near Spickard in Grundy County. Hybrid vigor is the improvement of various traits in crosses over purebreds. Traits MU researchers are particularly interested in include fertility, growth rate, disease resistance, and carcass characteristics. Crossbreeding may not necessarily result in improvement in every trait. The off-white, second-crop calf with its Angus mother is one of the crosses being produced.

After Tuesday Election

Rockefellers In Office May Outnumber Kennedys

NEW YORK (AP) — When the results of next Tuesday's elections are known, it just could be that the Rockefellers holding public office will outnumber the Kennedys, three to two.

Nelson A. Rockefeller is fighting for a third term as governor of New York. His brother, Winthrop, is making a second bid to become governor of Arkansas, after losing in 1964. Their nephew, John D. IV, is running for the legislature in West Virginia, his first foray into politics.

Thus, the Kennedys, U. S. Senators Robert F. and Edward M., may find themselves a minority dynasty on Wednesday morning.

But their party will have gained a promising new figure. For John D. (Jay) Rockefeller, 29, switched to the Democrats after consulting with his parents and his uncles, who are Republicans. "By experience, by association, by instinct, by philosophy and now by choice, I am a Democrat," he said when he announced his candidacy for the legislature last winter.

The young man then proceeded to run far ahead of 56 other candidates in Kanawha County which embraces Charleston, the state capital.

He received 23,385 votes, 7,000 more than runner-up George Wu, an American-born Chinese, and now is one of 28 candidates for 14 seats in the House of Delegates.

Inasmuch as Rockefeller came to West Virginia only two years ago, this was something of a phenomenon.

Previously, he had been a special assistant to Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps, and he was in the State Department as a specialist on the Far East. He came to West Virginia to work in the Appalachian Youth-Community Development Corp., a federally financed program.

In Emmos, a tiny, one-time mining community 15 miles south of Charleston, Rockefeller initiated community projects and was instrumental in creating a community center, now known as "Rockefeller Center."

His work, his name, and his frame — he is six feet, seven — soon made him known around the state. A West Virginia newspaper quoted one of his fellow workers as saying, "His parents must have worked hard to keep him in perspective. As a child he got an allowance of 15 cents a week. He was expected to spend five cents, save five cents and give five cents to charity."

Although Jay is a bachelor, he recently bought a large house in South Hills, an upper-income residential section of Charleston.

He is expected to win, handily, on Tuesday. And then, West Virginia observers say, he can go on to bigger things, the governor's office or the U. S. Senate.

But both his uncles appear to be in tight races.

The New York Daily News poll, always carefully watched by politicians, shows Uncle Nelson running about three percentage points behind Democrat Frank O'Connor, president of the New York City Council.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A move by the Ku Klux Klan to join forces with the American Conservative party of Missouri in support of Alabama Gov. George Wallace for president in 1968 has been blocked by the Conservative party, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch said.

Leaders of the Klan approached Floyd Kitchen, chairman of the Missouri party, about joining forces, the newspaper said Sunday, but were repulsed.

"We have made it clear to them that we are going to go our own way, without any support from any of those elements that we regard as extremist," the Post-Dispatch quoted Kitchen as saying.

The Conservative party is organizing a petition drive to obtain the 18,000 signatures necessary to have Wallace's name placed on the Missouri presidential ballot in 1968, the newspaper said.

Star-Filled Show

Viewers Enjoy Fantasy Of Alice Sunday Night

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — They crossed "Alice in Wonderland" with "The Wizard of Oz" and then borrowed unblushingly from other enchanted sources.

The result Sunday night was an NBC special called "Alice Through the Looking Glass."

But that result, in spite of a misleading title that will infuriate Lewis Carroll lovers, was a gay, imaginative 90 minutes of thoroughly enjoyable fantasy.

Albert Simmons, credited with adapting the Victoria classic, obviously felt no restraints. His contemporary Alice — young Judi Rolin was a perfect composite of Carroll's Alice and Frank Baum's Dorothy — went off on her dream adventures after being banished from a very modern cocktail party.

There were a lot of star names around and a number of particularly handsome production numbers.

It was a very happy time for children and adults alike. But that the silly laugh track and the ghostly sound of applause from an unseen audience were unnecessary and actively annoying.

Robert Coote and Agnes Moorehead were properly overwhelming as the Red King and Queen. Nanette Fabray clowning ferociously as the White Queen. Jimmy Durante was — well, Jimmy Durante playing Humpty Dumpty.

CBS' first National Geographic Society special of the season on Saturday, "Dr. Leakey and the Dawn of Man" undertook to show the discovery by a Kenya-based husband and wife team of anthropologists, Louis and Mary Leakey, of preliminary evidence that the cradle of man was Africa rather than Asia as previously believed. Theirs was a dramatic story of a 30-year search for evidence. But as an hour television program, it was considerably less than a success.

In the course of the 60 minutes there was available about only 15 minutes of meaningful visual material. The rest was filler.

A pretty California girl was eventually chosen as "Miss Teenage America" in a 90 minute CBS show Saturday night. It seemed to be much longer than that. The young contestants were all right, but those adult celebrities seemed to be tripping over each other's lines.

CBS' "Run, Buddy, Run," a frail comedy that promptly hit the Nielsen rocks, was abandoned over the weekend. It will be replaced Jan. 9 by another comedy, "Mr. Terrific," about a gas station attendant who becomes a superhero after taking a special pill.

ABC has decided that "The Avengers," a British-made secret agent series, will replace "12 O'Clock High" when it departs shortly after New Year's Day.

Astronauts To Snap Pix Of Eclipse

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — As one stands in his seat and the other aims the spaceship at a hidden sun, the Gemini 12 pilots hope next Saturday to snap man's most revealing pictures of a solar eclipse.

The four-day Gemini 12 flight, by chance, offers the scientific community its first opportunity to obtain space photographs of the spectacular moments when the moon blocks the sun from view on earth.

Success, however, rests with split-second timing by Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. They must be at the right spot three days deep into their busy mission, then do the job in a matter of seconds.

On earth, the total eclipse can be seen for about 3 1/2 minutes, but in space, with Gemini 12 whizzing around the globe 17,500 miles an hour, the astronauts will flick through the giant 52-mile wide shadow in seven seconds.

The eclipse, created by the moon passing between the earth and the sun, occurs early Saturday as Gemini 12 makes its 33rd trip around the globe. The total blackout will be seen only over Peru, southern Bolivia, northern Argentina, southern Brazil and part of the Atlantic Ocean.

While the astronauts take pictures in space, scientists and astronomers from seven countries will chase the eclipse in high-flying jets. Altogether, about 24 planes with instruments from various countries will cruise the area to extend the period of observations.

A variety of other experiments are planned. The Nimbus weather satellite will take pictures of the shadow created on earth while several small rockets and balloons gather data aloft.

War Amputee Hoping To Stay In Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Staff Sgt. Wayne A. Marge, 23, amputee from Viet Nam, looked at it this way:

"If you want to, you can lie around and feel sorry for yourself. But then you don't get up off your back. You've got to accept it for what it is. . . ."

"The way I look at it, things will always get better — eventually. It may take a little time. This is what kills me — time."

Marge, in blue hospital pajamas, crutches by his side, sat talking at Walter Reed Army Hospital. The pinned-up trousers on his right leg showed he had lost that leg below the knee. A shiny black high top shoe on his left foot disguised the fact that half that foot was gone.

"There were two things I was going to insist on when I came here," he said. "I was going to stay in the Army, and they were not going to take the rest of my foot."

"Well, I got to keep the rest of my foot. And I'm hoping for the other."

Marge figures that maybe it was a pretty good idea for a story and pictures about the rehabilitation of Viet Nam wounded at Walter Reed.

"People read about guys getting wounded and all that, and maybe they don't realize we come back and get fixed up," he said.

Marge went to Viet Nam in December, 1965, and was a squad leader with the 1st Infantry at Phuoc Vinh north of Saigon when he stepped on a Viet Cong mine.

He didn't remember exact dates and times for other events in his life, but he did that one. "It was last March 11, about 18 1/2 minutes after 4, I think," he said. "I was out booby-trapping an area and had just called in."

Since his arrival at Walter Reed last March 19, it has been two operations, therapy, exercise, being fitted with a shoe for half a left foot and, just three weeks ago, getting his artificial right leg.

He worked hard to get out of the wheelchair and now won't get back into one, even for a picture.

"I can't lower my status," he said with a grin.

Sooners Still Have Chance

Nebraska Just One Game From Title In Big Eight

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska's brawny Huskers are just one game from clinching at least a share of the Big Eight football crown and Coach Jim Mackenzie's fleet Sooners must overrun Missouri at Norman Saturday to keep alive the chances for a title tie.

Nebraska made it eight straight, five in the Big Eight, by beating stubborn Kansas 24-13. The unbeaten, sixth-ranked Huskers should get by Oklahoma State, although they needed a last-minute touchdown to beat OSU a year ago, 21-17. OSU lost its game at Texas Tech, 10-7.

Oklahoma showed its outstanding depth in backfield talent in a 37-6 victory over Kansas State at Norman. If the Sooners can get by Missouri, it will set up a showdown with Nebraska Thanksgiving Day in Lincoln.

Missouri was beaten 26-0 by Colorado at Columbia, on the heels of a 35-0 whipping by Nebraska, but two coaches had a warning for OU.

"Missouri is as tough a defensive team as we've played," said Eddie Crowder, Colorado coach. "It's a much better team than its last two scores would indicate."

Dan Devine, Missouri coach, said, "We will bounce back."

Missouri held Buff quarterback Dan Kelly to his season low of 52 yards, 45 of it on one play, and contained Wilmer Cooks and William Harris.

Each team lost three fumbles in a hard-hitting game, but Colorado converted its three for a 13-0 lead, then killed Missouri with Ike Howard's 99-yard interception touchdown.

Colorado, with All-Big Eight defensive end Sam Harris probably out for the year with a knee injury, plays at Kansas. Iowa State is at K-State.

Colorado moved into third place at 4-2 and kept its bowl chances alive. Oklahoma also is in the bowl picture. Nebraska can have its choice, but may go for a re-match with Alabama, this time in the Sugar Bowl.

Kansas delighted a record crowd of 45,500 with two last-half TDs, led by Billy Fenton, a gritty 155-pounder who hadn't played all year, and Don Shanklin, who rushed for 77 and gained 159 in all categories.

Nebraska had wrapped it up with an 18-point second period, with Bob Church making the big plays on the ground, one a 27-yard TD run. He also reached 2,675 yards in career passing, a school record.

"Nebraska is as great as it wants to be," said Jack Mitchell, Kansas coach.

Oklahoma lost tailback Ron Shotts in the Notre Dame loss but Jim Jackson, a bonafide 9.5 sprinter, stepped in to rush for 152 yards at Colorado and 137 in the victory over K-State. Fleet wingback Eddie Hinton delivered another home run and Jim Burger, stepping in for injured Bob Warmack, hit 10 of 15 passes for 151 yards.

K-State's Cornelius Davis ripped OU for 102 yards, this time from tailback, but the Sooners had too many weapons. Mackenzie was impressed with K-State. He put it this way:

"They've got the nucleus for a good football team in the future. They need a little depth. I'm impressed with the way they fight. It's tough to keep morale and spirit high game after game when you are losing."

"That Davis is something. He runs outside as well as inside."

Starting K-State quarterback Bill Nosske injured a thumb in the first half. Coach Doug Weaver said "I tried him some in the last half but he couldn't throw. I don't know how badly he is hurt."

K-State linebacker Danny Lankas drew praise from several OU players.

The plucky Fenton hit 9 of 17 passes for 105 yards and one TD—a 25-yarder which flanker Halley Kampeschroeder deflected to Junior Riggins in the end zone. Fenton commented:

"I walked off the field like it was just another routine touchdown."

Fenton had been throwing a lot for the scouting team and his passing was much better than last season when he went 35-for-104.

"When Bob Skahan was hurt in the first game, I wanted to use Fenton the next game at Arizona, but he was hurt in practice that Tuesday," Mitchell said. "He's a fighter, with all the heart and guts in the world."

Once when Fenton collided with 261-pound Carl Stith, Fenton got up first, using Stith for a prop, then patted him on the rear, as Stith hobbled off the field, much to the crowd's delight.

Mitchell smashed a hole in the blackboard at halftime in anger over his team's weak offense, which responded with 196 yards the last half.

"We couldn't play any harder, and nobody has defended Colorado as well as we did, but you can't keep giving them the ball," Devine said.

"Earl Denny must be hurt worse than we thought. Ray Thorpe will take over for him. We will stay with Dan Sharp at quarterback—he'll be a good one with experience."

Brown Would Rather Be On Stage

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Timmy Brown, who Sunday provided the National Football League with a new entry for its record book, would rather be an actor than a football player.

"If I ever get a good part on the stage, or in a television series, that will be the end of my football playing," says the handsome halfback of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Currently, Brown is doing pretty well with another type of play book—a football play book.

The congenial 29-year-old Brown was instrumental in helping the underdog Eagles stun the Dallas Cowboys 24-23 Sunday.

He established a new column in the record book, most touchdowns returns with kickoffs in a single game. He had two, one of 93 yards and the other for 90. It was the first time it has been accomplished.

He described his runbacks on Dallas as "lucky. I could just as easily have been caught both times."

Asked how he handles a kickoff return, Brown said:

"A back always starts up the middle and it's up to him to decide which way to go."

"On the first one yesterday, I was surprised to see only two men on my left, so I thought I'd rather fake right and then go back out. The guys did a helluva job blocking."

"The second time I went right up the middle then beared to my left. The first time I was tired, the second, I could have gone another hundred."

Have 1½ Game Lead

Biggest Victory Year For Chiefs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"This is the biggest victory we've had since we have been in Kansas City," said owner Lamar Hunt after watching his Chiefs beat San Diego 24-14 for a 1½-game lead in the AFL western title race.

"We aren't over the crest, though, because anything can happen in the AFL, as it did in Boston (17-10 loss to Denver)," Hunt said.

Hunt, a founder of the AFL, had the league title team at Dallas in 1962, a year the Chargers were wrecked by injuries. San Diego won the west the other five years.

This was the first pressure victory by Kansas City over San Diego in the club's four years here and the overflow crowd of 40,966 was delighted. NFL commissioner Pete Rozelle attended an AFL game for the first time.

"This is our sweetest and big-

S-C Sophs Meet Jays Here Today

The Smith-Cotton sophomore team of head Tiger coach Dick Rees will clash with the Jefferson City Jay sophomore squad Monday (Nov. 7) at Jennie Jaynes Stadium. Game time is 7 p.m.

Rees was particularly pleased with his sophomore players last week when they trounced the Clinton Cardinal Junior Varsity 20 to 6. "Our boys have been hustling," Rees said.

Starting Bengal lineup for Monday's clash against the Jays include Con Chapman, left end; Eddie Woolery, left tackle; Mark Kempton, left guard; Terry Reid, right guard; Steve Cain, right tackle; Mike Dalton, right end. Backfield starters are John Rissler, quarterback; Frank Doogs, left halfback; Steve Hunt, right halfback; and Keith Cooper, fullback.

Sedalia Soccer Team Wins Second Contest

Sedalia's Junior Soccer team beat Shawnee Mission East High at Kansas City 4-3 over the week-end for their second victory. Sedalia took the lead 1-0 in the first half on Jim Parker's loop to Dennis Johnson. In the second half Shawnee Mission scored three quick goals by Juergen Emhardt, Jose Guggiari and Rick Severa.

With 12 minutes left, Bobby Paxton scored on a 25 yard boot from side for Sedalia. Seven minutes later Jim Parker booted a long ball down the center to Dennis Johnson to tie the game. With less than a minute to go Shawnee Mission goalie came out to get the ball and realized that Johnson was beating him to the ball, tackled Johnson and a penalty kick was called. Howard Estill kicked the winning goal.

Sedalia travels to Kansas City to meet Rockhurst High next Sunday.

Wilson Does It Again

Cardinals Pad Lead In Eastern League

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Wilson did it again Sunday, intercepting a pass at a vital stage of a game, and the St. Louis Cardinals have padded their Eastern Conference lead despite the loss of Charley Johnson and Bob De Marco.

The lowly New York Giants, winners of only one game all season, had closed the Cards' lead to 20-17 and were nearing field goal range in the final period when Wilson picked off a Gary Wood pass for the clincher.

It was the seventh straight game in which the Cards' scrappy free safety had intercepted at least one pass, tying a National Football League record set by Washington's Paul Krause in 1964. Larry now has nine for the year, only five short of the NFL mark.

"The fellows who played the real game today were the rush men," said Wilson. "We had a game ball left over from the last Giant game because we didn't think anybody deserved it that time. We gave out two, one each to Chuck Walker and Sam Silas (the defensive tackles). You can't cover a man too long unless somebody gets to those guys (passers)."

Coach Charley Winner, whose Cards gained when both Dallas and Cleveland were upset, was concerned about the injuries to Johnson, his No. 1 quarterback, and De Marco, who is always in the running for all-star center.

Johnson came up with a damaged right knee when he was thrown out of bounds after running for a first down on the Giants eight in the third quarter. He gave way to Terry Nofsinger who took the team in for the big TD on an eight-yard pass to Prentice Gault.

"We don't know how badly Charley is hurt," said Winner. "I remember when I was in Baltimore when George Shaw got hurt and we had to go with Johnny Unitas. Johnny wasn't too good at first but he improved. I think Terry will improve, too, if we have to use him."

De Marco suffered an injury to his right knee, possibly torn ligaments, and was replaced by guard Irv Goode in the second period.

A 69-yard TD pass from Johnson to Jackie Smith, Nofsinger's toss to Gault and field goals of 20 and 41 yards by Jim Bakken accounted for the Card scoring.

The Giants, held without a first down in the first half but leading 73-0 on a 31-yard run by Jerry Hillbrand on an interception, came to life in the last quarter.

Earl Morrill, the No. 1 quarterback, suffered a broken bone in his right hand in a dummy scrimmage Saturday so the big job fell on Gary Wood.

Wood passed the Giants into range for a 26-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak early in the fourth. Then he moved the club 80 yards in five plays, capped by a seven-yard pass to Joe Morrison.

The Giants were on the way again when Wilson intercepted the pass on his own 30.

Winner said he would go with Nofsinger if Johnson can't get back into action. Sherman said he would look around to see if he can find a helper for Wood. Morrill will be out at least three weeks.

"If I can't find anybody, I will call up Joe Morrison's wife and tell her he is married to me for the rest of the year," said Allie. "Then Joe and I will go to work."

Nicholson Wins First Main Event

A full evening of racing at Rev-Rac Slot Car Center, 2513 East Broadway, Saturday night, saw Marvin Nicholson drive to his first Main Event win. Nicholson has been a constant winner in the heats and semi-finals for the past three weeks and his driving style has improved with each win. This is Nicholson's first year driving the super fast rewind.

The evening's winners were: 1st heat: Fred Smith; 2nd heat: Marvin Nicholson; 3rd heat: Mike Green. 1st Semi-final: Mike Green; 2nd Semi-final: Park Denny. Main Event: 1st Marvin Nicholson; 2nd Geary Gordon; 3rd Mike Green and Consolation: 1st Mike Parker; 2nd Don Benton; 3rd Don Stovall. Trophy Dash: Park Denny.

Junior race drivers met Friday night at 6:30 for the second time. Some close and fast races developed in this 13 year and under age group. The winners were:

Heat: 1st Mike Parker; 2nd Jack Marquess; 3rd Danny Hickman. Main Event: 1st Randy Kidwell; 2nd Mike Parker; 3rd Terry Couts. Trophy Dash: Randy Kidwell.

Burford had 5 catches for 77 yards, one a diving 38-yarder setting up the first TD. He made a great move to get open for the 10-yard TD.

"They just beat us that's all," said Sid Gillman, San Diego coach.

Had hit 17 of 31 passes for 230 yards.

Alworth pulled a thigh muscle and will be out about three weeks but hopes to miss only one game because of an open date.

St. Louis Star Will Enter Hospital For Examination Of Knee

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Quarterback Charley Johnson of the St. Louis Cardinals will enter Barnes Hospital for an examination of his right knee.

Johnson injured the knee in the third quarter of the St. Louis-New York Giants NFL game in New York, won by the Cardinals 20-17.

A club spokesman said, "We don't know how serious it is, but we're being gloomy about the whole thing."

Johnson was knocked out of the game in the third quarter when he was hit with a jarring tackle after a nine-yard run.

Center Bob De Marco was forced from the game in the first period, also with an injury to the right knee, and will be examined at Barnes.

The younger Hull scored his fifth goal of the young season early in the second period against the Bruins and then set up Pierre Pilote's game-winner. Earlier he had assisted on Wally Boyer's first period goal.

In other games Sunday night, Toronto battled back from a two-goal deficit, tying New York 3-3 and Detroit blanked Montreal 6-0.

The Rangers protected a 3-1 lead into the third period but Brian Conacher and Dave Keon scored, giving the Maple Leafs the tie. New York outshot Toronto 40-20 and got goals from Bob Nevin, Bill Hicke and Boom Geoffrion.

Glitter Undimmed For Tough Irish

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The glitter of an unbeaten season and a national major college football championship remains undimmed for Notre Dame and Michigan State as their showdown game grows nearer, but some of the bloom is off the rose for UCLA.

Top-ranked Notre Dame and No. 2 Michigan State, which meet at East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 19, rolled on Saturday with easy triumphs. Notre Dame, 7-0, trounced Pittsburgh 40-0, and Michigan State, 8-0, smashed Iowa 56-7.

But it was a different story for UCLA, gunning for a second straight trip to the Rose Bowl. The third-ranked Bruins dropped from the unbeaten ranks by losing to Washington 16-3, and now must beat Stanford next Saturday and Southern California Nov. 19 to have a chance for the trip to Pasadena.

UCLA wasn't the only previous unbeaten team to feel the sting of defeat. Seventh-ranked Florida suffered its first loss, 27-10, at the hands of Georgia, and Harvard saw its hopes of a first unbeaten season in 53 years wiped out with an 18-14 loss to Princeton.

The only unbeaten-untied teams remaining to challenge Notre Dame and Michigan State are No. 4 Alabama, fifth-ranked Georgia Tech and Nebraska, No. 6.

Notre Dame's offense sputtered in the first half against Pitt, which has won just once, and the Irish left the field at intermission ahead only 7-0. However, Nick Eddy ignited them with an 85-yard touchdown return of the kickoff opening the second half.

Michigan State took affront at a quick Iowa touchdown and turned Clint Jones loose on the Hawkeyes. Jones rushed for 239 yards, including runs of 79 and 70 yards, for a Big Ten individual game record. The Spartans play Indiana before meeting Notre Dame, which takes on Duke next Saturday.

Thrice-beaten Washington bottled up UCLA's brilliant quarterback Gary Began and held halfback Mel Farr to 32 yards in stopping the Bruins, now 7-1 over-all and 2-1 in the Pacific-8 conference.

Southern California, 7-1 overall and 4-0 in the Pacific Eight, walloped California 35-8. The ninth-ranked Trojans now have an off date to prepare for UCLA.

Georgia kept constant pressure on talented quarterback Steve Spurrier of Florida, now 7-1, and rallied in the second half for its victory over the Gators.

Alabama, 7-0 and tied with Georgia for first in the Southeastern Conference with a 5-0 mark, had little trouble in beating Louisiana State 21-0. The Crimson Tide is seeking an unprecedented third straight National title.

Georgia Tech, 8-0, had to sweat out a last-ditch field goal attempt which failed for a 14-13 victory over Virginia.

Nebraska, 8-0, downed Kansas 24-13 and moved nearer its fourth straight Big Eight Conference championship. The Cornhuskers are 5-0 in conference play.

Eighth-ranked Arkansas stayed in the race for the Southeastern Conference crown with a 31-20 defeat of Rice. The Razorbacks play conference leading Southern Methodist, which topped Texas A&M 21-14, next Saturday. Arkansas is 7-1 overall and 4-1 in the league. SMU is 4-0 and 6-1.

Tenth-ranked Tennessee, 5-2, got a fight from Chattanooga before winning 28-10.

Springfield Wins Over Cape 20-7

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ardie McCoy ran 10 yards for the insurance touchdown as Springfield State defeated Cape Girardeau State 20-7, Saturday night at Cape to clinch at least a tie for the MIAA title.

Sam McDowell set up one Springfield touchdown with an intercepted pass and a fumble led to another Bear score.

In other action, the Rolla Miners handed Kirksville State its fourth straight loss-16-0. They blanked the Bulldogs, defending champion, for the first time in 25 years. The winner is now 1-3 in the loop.

Maryville State fell behind on a 105-yard touchdown jaunt. Recovery of two Warrensburg fumbles helped the winner break two ties.

Don Orlowski, Bearcat quarterback, ran 18 yards to snap a 7-7 tie after a Warrensburg bobble was taken on the Mules' 19. Then Warrensburg gave up the ball on a fumble at the Mule 26. Fullback Mickey Thompson ran 23 yards for the T.D. that snapped a 14-14 deadlock and gave Maryville its 21-14 victory.

Saturday's MIAA state sends Maryville to Rolla, Springfield to Warrensburg and Cape Girardeau to Kirksville in the final conference games of the season.

William Jewell warmed up for its annual battle with Missouri Valley in the MCAU by trimming Austin, Tex., 21-7. End Jim Reichard scored on a 10-yard run with a blocked punt and Bill Reese scampered 20 yards for a touchdown with an Austin fumble.

In other MCAU games, Central Methodist tripped Eureka, 22-0. Colorado College bombed Graceland, 53-0.

The only MCAU action besides Valley-Jewell this week sends Graceland to Doane, Neb., Friday night.

In the independent ranks, Lincoln nipped Kentucky State, 15-14, and Washington of St. Louis ripped Centre, 37-14.

This week, Sewanee is at Washington and Lincoln meets Tennessee State at St. Louis.

Chicago Bulls Just Haven't Learned Yet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bulls just haven't learned their lesson, and their elders are having difficulty teaching them.

Chicago, the National Basketball Association's newest member, opened the season by winning four of its first five games. Then it happened—the Bulls lost five in a row.

However, they trounced St. Louis 134-102 Sunday night for their third straight victory and a 7-4 record, good for sole possession of first place in the Western Division.

San Francisco nipped Baltimore 120-117 in the only other Sunday game and moved into a second-place tie in the West with Detroit. The Warriors have a 6-6 record. Detroit is 5-5.

St. Louis never had a chance against Chicago as the Bulls charged to a 70-45 lead at intermission and kept the pressure on in the second half.

Rick Barry put San Francisco ahead to stay at 104-103 with 4:20 left in the game and finished with 43 points as the Warriors handed the Bulls their 10th loss in 11 games.

Aztecs Destined To Be Future Favorites

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Coach Don Coryell relishes the underdog role for San Diego State but his Aztecs are destined to be favorites in the future.

"We're No. 1," echoed shouts in jam-packed Balboa Stadium where a record paid crowd of 35,342 watched the Aztecs, ranked second in the nation in the college division, trounce top-ranked North Dakota State, 36-0, Saturday night.

It ended the Bison 24-game winning streak.

"I had a good feeling about the game," said Coach Coryell. "When we're underdogs, I can't wait for the game to start, but when we're favored, I dread it."

Quarterback Don Horn directed the unbeaten Aztecs to their seventh straight victory, completing 16 of 28 passes for 295 yards.

Burford Is KC's Leading Man In Game

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

All last week the San Diego Chargers attended an Otis Taylor film festival, but Kansas City's leading man turned out to be Chris Burford.

With the Chargers' defense double-teaming Taylor, the league's fifth leading pass receiver, Burford was able to break loose for a couple of important catches that propelled the Chiefs to a critical 24-14 American Football League victory Sunday.

"We knew they'd be looking at Taylor all week in the films," Kansas City Coach Hank Stram said after the game, so the Chiefs had Burford, the split end, switch from the left side of the line to the right on succeeding plays in order to confuse the Charger secondary.

How well the strategy worked was shown on two of Burford's five catches.

In the first quarter, Burford got a step on defender Speedy Duncan and made a diving catch of Len Dawson's pass while Duncan was making a diving catch of Burford. Both men rolled for several yards before coming to a halt, the ball safely in Burford's arms. The play went for 38 yards to the San Diego 12 and Kansas City scored a moment later.

With 44 seconds remaining in the half, and the Chiefs 10 yards from the Charger goal, Burford ran into the end zone and then parallel to the goal line until he was nearly out of the playing area. Then he sliced back inside, bringing the ever-present Duncan with him. At the last moment, Burford cut to the sideline again where he conveniently found Dawson's pass awaiting him for a touchdown.

In other AFL games, Denver upset Boston, 17-10. Buffalo beat Miami, 29-0 and Oakland took Houston, 38-23.

The Kansas City victory gave the Chiefs a 1½-game lead over the Chargers in the AFL's Western Division.

Denver's triumph came on a 64-yard scoring pass from rookie quarterback Max Baer to Al Denson with just two seconds left in the game. The Broncos got the ball with just 20 seconds left after Gino Cappelletti missed a 14-yard field goal.

Jack Kemp tossed two scoring passes as the Bills ended Miami's brief winning streak at two games. The Buffalo defense blitzed Miami quarterback George Wilson, Jr. continually and Booth Lustig converted a pair of field goals.

Tom Flores connected on just 10 of 26 passes for Oakland, but he made them count for 269 yards and two touchdowns. The scoring throws went 78 yards to Fred Biletnikoff and 46 yards to Art Powell.

Whitworth Defeats Wright In Tourney

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) —

Kathy Whitworth won a head-to-head duel with Mickey Wright in the $10,000 Amarillo Open Sunday to strengthen her claim to No. 1 in women's golf.

Miss Whitworth beat Miss Wright, who was the top winner in women's golf until she dropped out for a year, in a sudden death playoff for $1,500 first money in the Amarillo Open.

She brought her official winnings for the year to $29,652.50—more than $5,000 ahead of Miss Wright.

To win the tournament, Miss Whitworth had to stage one of the great come-from-behind drives in women's golf history.

She was nine strokes back at the start of the final round Sunday, but she fired a three-under-par 68 while Miss Wright had a 73 and they tied for first place with 215 for 54 holes. The latter had to eagle the final hole to gain the tie.

Then in the sudden death playoff, Miss Whitworth tapped a 20-foot birdie putt and Miss Wright had a par.

N. Texas Is Second In MVC Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Texas whipped Cincinnati 35-13 for undisputed second place in Missouri Valley football and another victory at Wichita Saturday would keep alive

North Texas hopes for a share of the crown, should Tulsa's leaders stumble in one of their last two with Louisville or Wichita.

Two Valley teams were humiliated by potent, once-beaten teams last Saturday, Tulsa by Houston 73-14 in the Astrodome and Wichita at home by Wyoming 55-0.

Louisville got the only Valley victory, 23-20 over Kent State at Louisville with Benny Russell firing two TD passes for the Cardinals.

Louisville plays at Cincinnati and Montana State at Tulsa in other games Saturday.

Houston's 10-touchdown spree entertained a crowd of 42,061 in the domed arena and gained revenge for Tulsa's 14-0 victory last year, the first football game held in the Astrodome. Flanker Don Bean had 63- and 66-yard punt return touchdowns.

It was a 7-7 game at halftime at Denton, Tex., but Cincy lost a fumble at its 10 opening the third period and the Eagles exploded for 21 points, including a 72-yard pass, Corky Boland to John Love, and a 25-yard interception TD by Billy Woods.

Wyoming Coach Lloyd Eaton sent in his reserves with the score 28-0 but the score mounted. Eaton said "Our scouting reports on last week's Wichita victory over Louisville scared the devil out of us—I mean that sincerely. We were upset by Colorado State and I was scared our boys wouldn't be able to bounce back."

Eagles Take Advantage Of Punt Return

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Nothing else was working for the Philadelphia Eagles, so they started cashing in on Dallas touchdowns.

Philadelphia's Timmy Brown returned kickoffs 93 and 90 yards for touchdowns following Dallas scores Sunday, setting a National Football League record and sparking the Eagles to a 24-23 triumph over the heavily favored Cowboys.

Aaron Martin ran back a Dallas punt 67 yards for another touchdown and Sam Baker kicked a 31-yard field goal as the Eagles scored all their points in the first half . . . despite netting only six yards and one first down on offense.

Brown became the first player in NFL history to score twice in a game on kickoff runbacks as the Eagles averaged a 56-7 early-season loss to Dallas in one of three big upsets on Sunday's schedule.

The Minnesota Vikings, triggered by Fran Tarkenton's clutch passing, stunned the Green Bay Packers 20-17 and the Pittsburgh Steelers, winless in their previous five games, shocked the Cleveland Browns 16-6.

St. Louis lost quarterback Charlie Johnson in the third quarter with a knee injury but held off New York 20-17, stretching its Eastern Division lead over Dallas to 1½ games, and Baltimore, led by sharpshooting Johnny Unitas, moved within one-half game of the Western Division-leading Packers by whipping Washington 37-19.

Elsewhere San Francisco trimmed Los Angeles 21-13 and Detroit played Chicago to a 10-10 standoff.

The Eagles spotted Dallas an early touchdown, tied the score on Brown's 83-yard burst, then fell behind 17-7 before Brown struck again. Martin's touchdown jaunt sent them ahead to stay less than a minute later.

Minnesota's Tarkenton completed 16 of 26 passes for 172 yards. His 38-yard third-down strike to Jim Phillips in the fourth quarter set up Bill Brown's one-yard dive for the winning touchdown. Brown also scored the other Viking TD on a one-yard run and Fred Cox booted a pair of field goals.

The loss was the Packers' second in nine games. Ron Smith, Pittsburgh's rookie quarterback, marched the Steelers 80 yards late in the third quarter, completing four straight passes including an eight-yard payoff pitch to Gary Ballman that doomed Cleveland. Three field goals by Mike Clark completed the Steeler scoring.

An aroused Pittsburgh defense tossed Frank Ryan for five losses totaling 52 yards and intercepted five of his passes. Lou Groza missed the extra point kick following Cleveland's touchdown after converting 123 in a row.

Cleveland tackle Dick Modzelewski played in his 174th consecutive game, tying the NFL record set by Leo Nomellini of San Francisco three years ago.

The Cardinals, boosting their record to 7-1-1, came from behind in the second half on a 69-yard TD pass from Johnson to Jackie Smith, a seven-yard scoring toss from sub quarterback Terry Nofsinger to Prentice Gault and Jim Bakken's second field goal of the game.

SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — A young GI, killed by North Korean infiltrators after he went to aid his buddies instead of running away, was recommended
today for the Silver Star.

U. S. officials said that Pvt.
Ernest D. Reynolds, 20, of Kansas City, Mo., was standing rear security duty near the demilitarized zone and could easily have escaped the ambush
early last Wednesday.

Instead he rushed up from his post 30 yards away and was killed by the Communist Koreans who overran an allied patrol. The Reds killed six Americans and one South Korean soldier.

The attack occurred on the last day of President Johnson's three-day visit to South Korea.
Johnson was in Seoul, 30 miles away, at the time of the clash.

Pvt. David E. Bibee, 17, of Ringgold, Va., the sole survivor of the U. S. patrol, was awarded a purple heart.

Bibee survived by feigning death after the Korean Communists overran the patrol. He is recovering at the 121st evacuation hospital outside Seoul.

Maj. Gen. George B. Pickett
Jr., commanding general of the 2nd Infantry Division, said in his recommendation of the award for Reynolds:

"When the attack began with a burst of grenades and automatic weapons fire, Reynolds attacked the North Korean Army raiders on their flank and rear in an effort to assist his comrades.

Bear Bites Arm Off
3-Year-Old Girl

HIGH POINT State Park, N.J.
(AP) — A caged bear bit off the arm of a 3-year-old Port Jervis,
N.Y., girl who was feeding it sugar cubes Sunday, state police said.

The child, Tomi V. Willis, lost all of her right arm from just above the elbow. She was taken to a hospital where she was reported in satisfactory condition.

Troopers said she was feeding two black bears, kept at the park by the state. A sugar cube had stuck to her mitten and when she thrust it farther into the cage so one of the bears could get the cube, the animal bit down on her arm.

Harriman Optimistic For Peace

LONDON (AP) — President Johnson's roving envoy, W. Averell Harriman, said today he is convinced the Soviet Union wants peace in Viet Nam and only Peking "sees an advantage in continuing the war."

Speaking at a news conference at the U.S. Embassy after a world trip explaining to leaders of other nations the purposes and results of the Manila conference, Harriman said he personally is more optimistic for peace—"not by anything Hanoi has said but by the sheer massive weight of world opinion piling up for peace."

He said the North Vietnamese Communists would be disappointed if they expected Tuesday's U.S. elections to show a serious split among the American people on the war issue. If anything, he predicted, these elections would produce a "more hawkish" trend.

Harriman said President Johnson "would have to prove himself as tough as President Harry S. Truman did against pressures on him to expand the Korean War."

Harriman, who will see Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Foreign Secretary George Brown on Tuesday, said he was encouraged by increasing understanding of America's Viet Nam aims among Asian and European leaders he saw. He has been in Indonesia, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Iran, Italy, France and West Germany on this trip.

"I found them all extremely interested in the Viet Nam situation, even though they're not participating actively," he said. "and the European leaders with whom I talked are assured that our North Atlantic Treaty Organization interest is in no way diminished by our actions in the Far East."

Harriman said he was hopeful the forthcoming visit of Brown to Moscow might aid Viet Nam peace prospects.

A former ambassador to Moscow and long-time student of Soviet affairs, Harriman said he believed the Russians and East Europeans want Viet Nam peace.

"Even though the Russians have not admitted it publicly, I'm satisfied they want peace. Russia desires that these hostilities stop because they see no advantage in prolonging them. But Peking does see gain in continuing the war," he said.

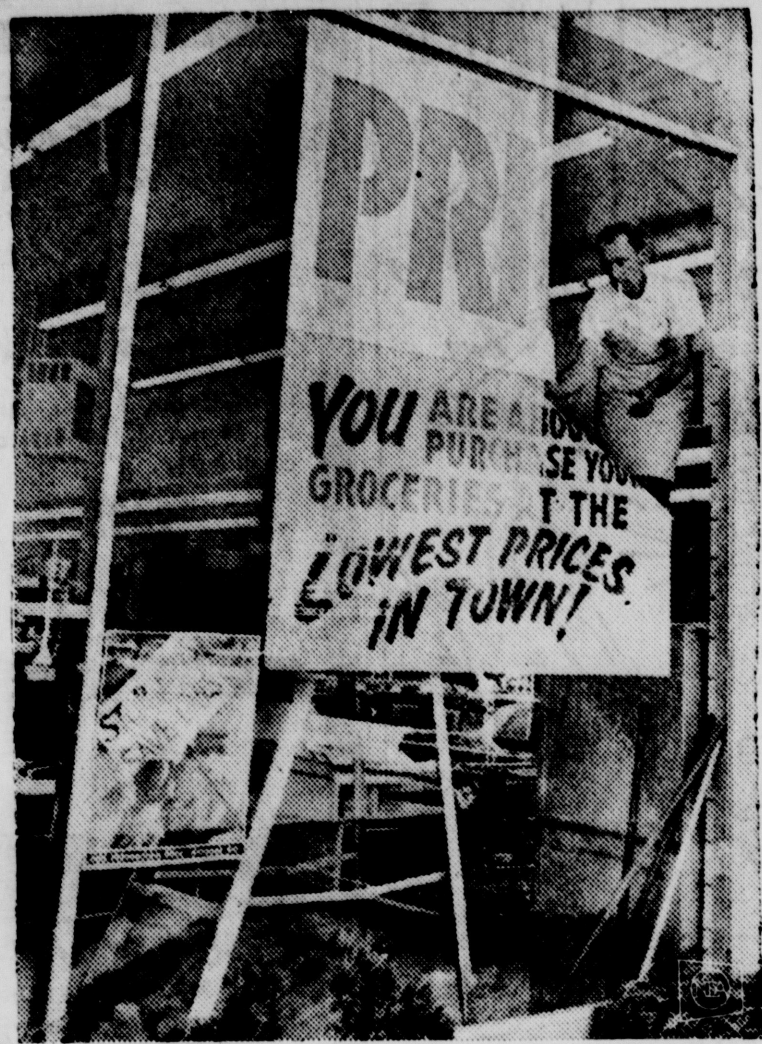

Secretary of State On Vietnam Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the conflict in Viet Nam "basically is an effort by North Viet Nam" to take over the entire country.

Speaking on the NBC "Today" television show, Rusk said the prospect of peace "turns on whether Hanoi will give up its ambition to take South Viet Nam. It's as simple as that."

As for the Manila conference, Rusk said the seven nations expressed their determination to halt aggression, whether the aggression be "directly, overtly, or covertly."

He said North Viet Nam generals in the South "are giving direction to the Viet Cong. If the Northern elements go home, South Viet Nam can work things out very quickly."

PRICE WARS have been set off in some areas by housewives' protests over food prices. In Denver, this store manager tells consumers, "You are about to purchase your groceries at the lowest prices in town!" Housewives countered, "They're still too high."

New Exchange President Prepared For Position

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Southey Saul, 44, son of a Brooklyn machinist, Navy veteran, onetime Foreign Service officer, Yale law graduate, former critic of securities trading, began still another job today — president of the American Stock Exchange.

"I never expected to be here," he said in a recent interview. "I would have been amazed if somebody told me a year ago that I would be in this job." And yet, if you trace the background, you find the evolution of events began with Saul, himself.

Back in 1961 Saul was a Securities & Exchange Commission lawyer with a reputation for having lambasted the American Stock Exchange. Now he is its head, so you have the reason for surprise. But you can find a pattern there as well.

Saul helped write a report that shook the old exchange management. It accused some traders of "manifold and prolonged abuses." Some old timers were embittered. Some went to jail.

Soon after, Edward T. McCormick resigned as president. He was replaced by Edwin Etherington, who promptly corrected the abuses and established a theme of cooperation with the SEC. A new image of responsibility gradually developed.

Saul, meanwhile, continued with the SEC until last year when he became a vice president of Investors Diversified Services, the nation's largest mutual fund management firm.

Shortly after, Etherington resigned to become president of Wesleyan University. The exchange's directors — secure in their new image, mindful of how they got it and wanting to maintain it — turned to Saul.

The new president's administration is not likely to be like Etherington's. Four years ago action was demanded. The SEC, Saul included, was breathing on the exchange's neck. "Change," it told them. And Etherington's administration was one of constructive change and modernization.

Saul is an able, orderly administrator rather than an innovator. He is likely to rely heavily on his staff, to seek deeply for answers before committing himself. He is thorough, and cautious enough not to make glaring errors or ignite personal fireworks.

Saul feels now that the exchange and the SEC are working smoothly together. "I don't think it is realized how close is the cooperation between this institution and the government," he said.

But, he does not feel the SEC and the exchange are adversaries, nor does he see any danger of friendship compromising the role of either. "We share the job (regulation) with the SEC," he said.

Saul's initial salary is $80,000 a year, the same as was paid Etherington when he began. Etherington went to $100,000 after 21 months.

To earn his money, Saul feels his duties are twofold:

1. Public responsibility. "The responsibility for surveillance (checking on trading activity) and regulation was imposed on us by the SEC Act of 1934."

2. Management. "We run a trading facility, a marketplace. This aspect of the job is just as important as the first. I hope to do a good job of management."

SATURDAY NIGHT, Vietnamese style, for this lad includes a thorough dousing at the hands of his sister who keeps a firm grip on his soapy hair. The jungle bath ritual was caught near Qui Nhon, South Viet Nam, where the U.S. 1st Cavalry was involved in an operation.
